

Nasser Spurns U. S. Aid If It Tries to Rule Foreign Policy

Charges Ambassador Seeks To Apply Economic Pressure

BY ROY ESSOYAN
CAIRO (AP) — Relations between the United States and the United Arab Republic deteriorated further today in the wake of a speech by President Gamal Abdel Nasser telling America to "go to hell."

Speaking in Port Said Wednesday, Nasser accused U.S. Ambassador Lucius Battle of trying to put economic pressure on Egypt and declared: "Anyone who does not like our attitude can drink from the sea. And if the Mediterranean is not big enough, we will give him the Red Sea to drink, too."

"To 'drink from the sea' is the Egyptian slang equivalent of 'go to the devil' or 'go to hell'."

No official U.S. comment was available immediately in Washington. U.S. officials indicated, however, that a request by Nasser for $35 million worth of surplus food would be shelved because of his aid to the Congolese rebels.

Arms for Congo Rebels

Nasser's outburst apparently was touched off by U.S. accusations that he is aiding the Congolese rebels and intimations that U.S. aid would be curtailed because of this.

Speaking to a rally celebrating the end of the 1956 British-French invasion of the Suez, Nasser declared:

"We have sent arms to the Congolese rebels and we will continue to send arms because the rebels need them and need the support of the honest nations of the world. The U.A.R. cannot watch aggression against the Congo and stand handcluffed."

"We do not accept any words against us and we will cut off the tongue of anyone who uses them. We do not need their money."

Plane Shot Down

Relations between the United States and the U.A.R. worsened when a mob sacked the U.S. Information agency library in Cairo last month in protest against the American-Belgian mission in the Congo. Last week an American oil company's plane was shot down by the Egyptian air force as it was flying from Jordan to Libya, and the two crewmen were killed.

The United States has been supplying the U.A.R. about $140 million a year in food under a three-year agreement that expires next June 30. Nasser's government had asked for an additional $35 million worth for the coming year to ease a serious shortage.

Can't Dominate Policy

Nasser said Ambassador Battle, in a call on the U.A.R. minister of supplies Tuesday, "stayed only two minutes" and "said he could not possibly speak about (supplies) because the conduct of the Egyptians was not good."

Johnson Will Ask Increase In Mail Rates

2nd and 3rd Classes Affected; Pay Raises Also Being Studied

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)

President Johnson has decided to ask Congress for higher rates on second and third class mail and is now reported giving serious consideration to asking pay raises for civil service and postal workers.

The decision on pay increases for Uncle Sam's 2.46 million civilian workers is one of the policy questions still facing Johnson in the final stages of his work on the federal budget.

Budget Director Kermit Gordon said Wednesday that work on the budget was "over the hump." He steered clear of specific figures, but said the budget would be "very, very, substantially below" the $108.5 billion originally asked by departments and agencies for the fiscal year which starts next July 1.

Modest Increase

One of Johnson's decisions Wednesday was to ask for the higher rates on second and third class mail. Second class mail includes newspapers and magazines, third class consists mainly of advertising matter.

In announcing the rate increase proposal at a news conference in Austin, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said the requested increase would be modest.

Gronouski said Johnson also would ask for legislation to require volume users of first class mail to sort letters by ZIP code before mailing. He said this also would be required of second and third class volume mailers, but legislation is unnecessary.

Gronouski said the Post Office Department plans to hire more employees to cut down excessive overtime and increase efficiency. He did not say how big the increase would be.

The postmaster general also said the closing down of the smallest post offices — fourth class — would be stepped up. In recent years these offices have been closed at the rate of 400 to 500 a year.

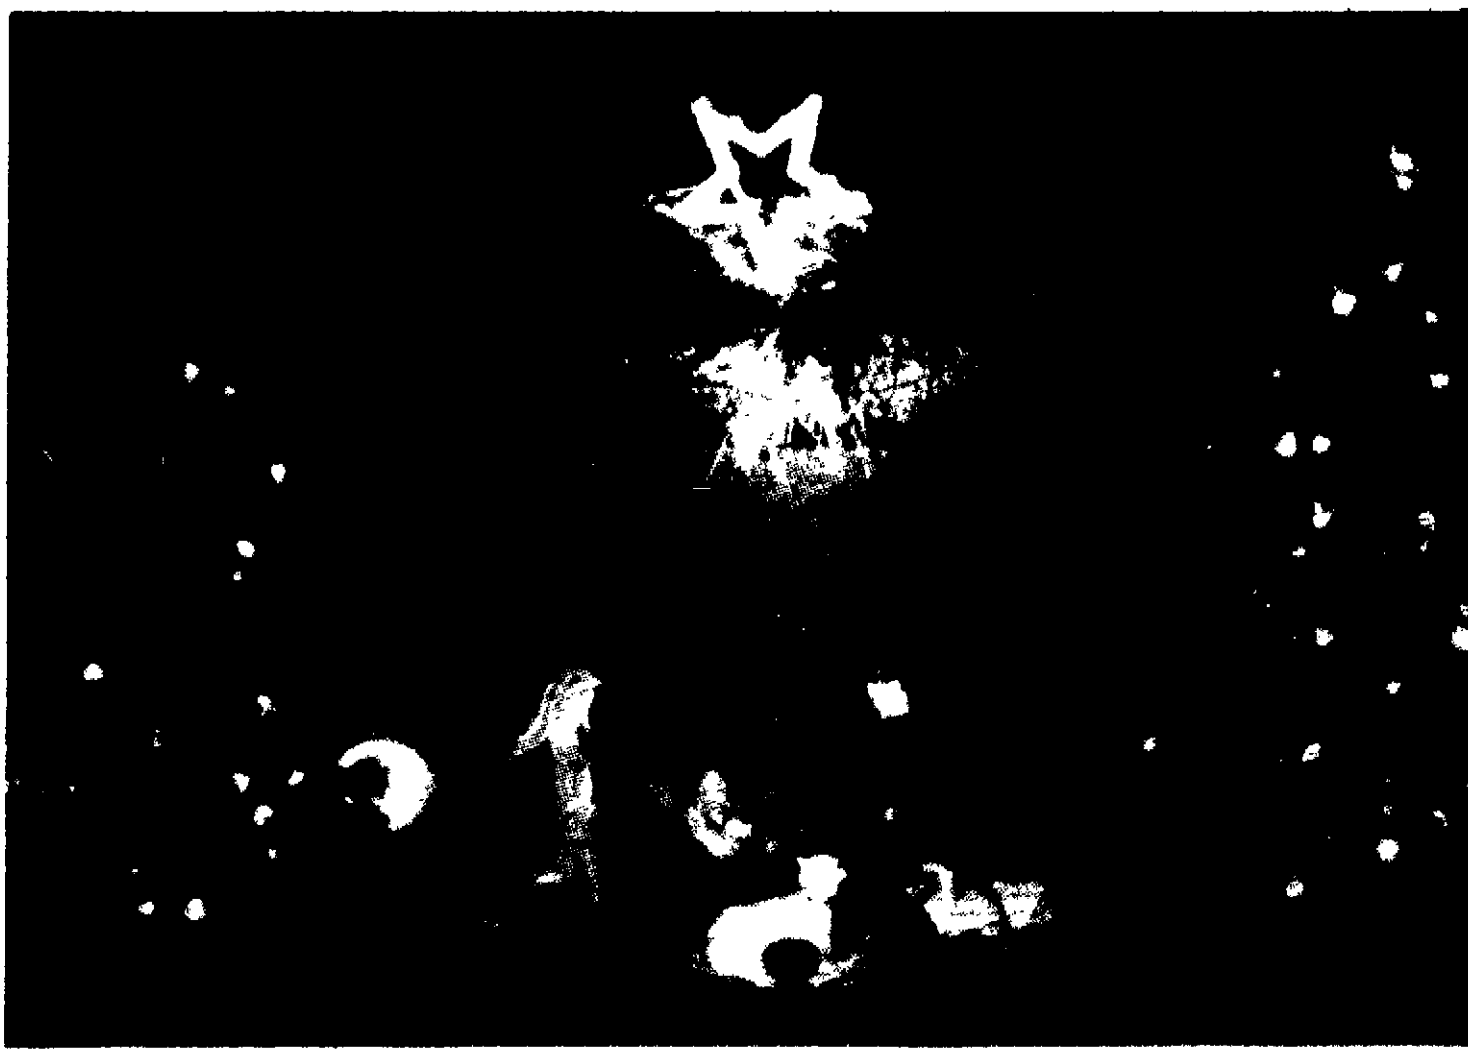

Gronouski said offices would be closed only in cases where equal or better services could be provided by rural or star routes.

Indonesia Guerrillas Killed in Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysian and Communist guerrillas clashed today, killing three of the latest contingent of Indonesian guerrillas to land on the southwest coast of the Malaysian peninsula. The government said the Indonesians were killed in a jungle clash about 150 miles south of Kuala Lumpur. The government reported earlier that between 27 and 30 armed guerrillas landed near the Pontian region of Johore.

It was the fourth Indonesian raid on the Malaysian peninsula in the last five months.

Icy Roads Tie Up Traffic Through Valley Area

Despite the Nearly 2,000 Years separating the actual happening and today, the story of the Nativity at Bethlehem will live anew tonight. As a tangible reminder, many homes and churches have mounted life-size scenes depicting the event, such as this one at the George Reiland home in Mackville. Let the reproduction of this color photo by Post-Crescent photo department chief Andrew J. Mueller serve as the newspaper's heartfelt Christmas greetings to all of its readers along with a bright New Year wish.

Expected To Continue Christmas

Cold, icy, wet weather paralyzing travel to many parts of the nation and hampering road travel in the Fox Valley area and over much of the state is predicted to continue through Christmas day.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Austin Straubel Field in Green Bay today predicted occasional snow flurries with slowly falling temperatures this evening and Christmas day. Readings are to drop to 12 overnight and return to only the 20 mark Christmas day.

The bureau said a major front of undetermined effect is forming over the central part of the nation that could bring a heavier-than-expected snowfall to all of Wisconsin.

Road conditions over much of the state were reported hazardous today. Inspector Merlin Ross of the State Motor Vehicle Department said highways were slippery with poor visibility due to fog over almost all the state.

Airlines Operating

Best conditions were reported in western Wisconsin, where roads were slippery only in scattered places. Much of the northern part of the state awoke today to a new four-inch snow cover, with roads in very slippery condition. All of eastern Minnesota and all of Illinois reported hazardous driving conditions today.

Greyhound Bus Lines reported all buses running on time this morning, but expected a combination of heavy passenger loads and poor road conditions to set schedules back 30 minutes to an hour by this afternoon or evening.

North Central Airlines flights cancelled Wednesday leaving the Appleton, Oshkosh and Green Bay airports were back in operation today, but some flights coming into those ports from O'Hare Airport in Chicago and General Mitchell Field in Milwaukee were being cancelled.

Trouble in West

The airline said both the Milwaukee and Chicago fields were cancelling several flights due to bad weather conditions there and at ports of destination, however, the cancelled flights were not determined. Flights from Grand Rapids, Mich., also were being cancelled.

Chicago and North Western Railway trains all were running on time, but a railroad representative said heavy passenger loads and poor weather possibly would set schedules back by this afternoon or evening.

Commercial transportation services were having the most difficulty arranging trips to areas of the West Coast, where floods and heavy snow have forced the cancellation of most planes and buses, and some trains have been stranded by snow between stops.

Girl, 16, Killed by Grenade at Party

ADEN (AP) — A grenade hurled into the Christmas party of a group of British teen-agers Wednesday killed the daughter of a Royal Air Force officer and wounded four other persons at the RAF station in Khormaksar.

The dead girl was Gillian Sidney, 16, daughter of Air Commodore E. S. Sidney. She had arrived in the British-protected Federation of South Arabia only Wednesday to be with her parents for Christmas.

White Christmas Will Answer Bing's Dream

Fox Cities — Considerable cloudiness with snow flurries this afternoon and Christmas Day. Slowly falling temperatures today and Christmas. Low about 12, high 20. Moderate northwesterly winds.

Appleton — Observations at 10 a.m. today. Temperatures for the 24 hours: High, 34, low, 31. Wind: Calm out of the west northwest. Barometer: 29.33 and steady. Relative humidity: 100. Dew point: 33. Temperature: 33. Precipitation: .2. Skies are cloudy.

All of Christian World Ready For Christmas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians around the world prepared today to celebrate the joy of Christmas but in many areas troubled by controversy and fighting, joy remained only a hope.

Men were fighting and dying in the jungles of the Congo and Viet Nam in the Christmas of 1964. Yet most parts of the Christian world were at peace, however uneasy it might be.

Johnson's Message

From Washington, President Johnson sent "warmest Christmas greetings" to the 22,000 U.S. servicemen who are spending the holiday in Viet Nam fighting a war against communism.

"You are in Viet Nam, far from the places and people you love, because the forces that have given our nation strength and wealth have also placed upon it the burden of defending freedom — even in remote and

At Least 28 Dead; Officials Can't Estimate Growing Loss

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — briefly Wednesday but another Thousands of victims in live low pressure system moved in from the Pacific and the heavy downpour resumed. The Weather Bureau forecast rain and strong winds from Northern California to Washington through Friday.

Communities Cut Off In California's rugged north country, entire communities were cut off by merciless torrents that tore out at least 15 bridges, knocked out telephone lines and washed away huge sections of highways.

Hundreds of persons were trapped, without food or medicine, clinging to rooftops or perched in islands awaiting rescue.

Every town along the Eel River in northwestern California was inundated in the hamlet of N.J., the pilot, Daniel W. Hennessy, 33, of 1545 Wedgewood Drive, Hillsborough, Calif., co-pilot, and Paul M. Entz, 37, of 11251 Calvert St., North Hollywood, Calif.

3 Killed in Crash of Big Cargo Plane

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — A Flying Tiger four-engine Super Constellation cargo plane on takeoff slammed into fog-shrouded San Bruno Mountain today, killing the three crew members aboard and narrowly missing a Coast Guard radio station.

An airline spokesman said the 70-ton plane appeared to be in its proper takeoff path when it crashed and broke into bits, scattered over a half-mile area. The airline said the victims were Capt. J. A. Richards, 49, of 657 Westlake Ave., Bay Head, N.J., the pilot; Daniel W. Hennessy, 33, of 1545 Wedgewood Drive, Hillsborough, Calif., co-pilot, and Paul M. Entz, 37, of 11251 Calvert St., North Hollywood, Calif.

Crashes On Ridge

The Federal Aviation Agency said the New York-bound transport took off from San Francisco International Airport at 12:29 a.m. and disappeared from radar scopes almost immediately. The plane crashed at the 1,000-foot level — 100 feet higher — and the plane would have cleared the mountain — on Sweeney Ridge, about 10 miles south of San Francisco.

Coast Guard radioman Fred Goodwin said the plane passed within a few feet of a concrete transmitting building where six men were on duty, and crashed into the building. The plane broke in cavities of the brain structure, half then disintegrated, some 41, as this is done X-rays get a clearer picture of the various sections of the brain.

Joyful Christmas for Parents

Complicated Brain Surgery Brings Girl, 3, Back From Brink of Death

BY ROY A. WHITCOMB Jr.

SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — To Mr. and Mrs. Roland C. Martin there will never be another Christmas as joyous as this one.

Today their daughter Laurie, 3, is coming home after spending five months in a Boston hospital on the brink of death.

Through these months the most discouraging aspect was watching Laurie in her twilight zone. Her eyes were open, but there was no recognition in them. Her lips never moved.

Then on Nov. 1 — her mother remembers it was All Saints Day — Laurie looked up from her bed and said "Hi." In a few moments she talked to her parents, her doctor and nurses.

Both parents spent every possible day at her bedside during those soul-wracking months. Dr. Robert J. Ojemann, a prominent brain surgeon, performed the delicate operation to remove the cyst. Then Drs. Philip Dodge, John Benton and Andrea Nash, pediatric neurologist at Massachusetts General, kept constant vigil.

Within a week the child required another operation to inflate a lung that had collapsed. Shortly afterward a shunt operation was performed to drain excess fluid off the brain.

It was with these pictures that the benign tumor was discovered. It looked as large as a grapefruit, one doctor said, and was the largest ever found in a child of Laurie's age.

Laurie's loss of faculties gradually disappeared as time passed, presumably planted by the Viet Cong, blasted a U.S. military officers' hotel in Saigon today, injuring 52 Americans, the Pentagon was advised to

And as the days of November and early December passed, day after day, Laurie began to recall little moments she learned to keep. To hear Laurie repeat these lines now brings a rush of warmth to her parents' hearts.

She also remembered a prayer she learned in April: "Now I tell you, the Lord my soul to keep." "To hear Laurie repeat these lines now brings a rush of warmth to her parents' hearts."

52 Americans Are Injured in Saigon Bomb Explosion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bomb, presumably planted by the Viet Cong, blasted a U.S. military officers' hotel in Saigon today, injuring 52 Americans, the Pentagon was advised to

The first report said there were no dead. The building is in the heart of the city, near the Caravelle Hotel. The Pentagon said initial reports sent here showed that in addition to the 52 Americans injured one Australian officer and 15 Vietnamese were hurt.

Hundreds Feared Dead in Cyclone And Tidal Wave

MADRAS, India (AP) — Hundreds are believed dead in a cyclone and tidal wave that swept across southern India and Ceylon Wednesday.

The chief minister of Madras State reported that 200 persons were washed into the sea and drowned at Dhanushkodi, in southern India.

The Indian Express said 500 were feared drowned on the tiny island of Rameswaram, between India and Ceylon. The storm washed out the rail link between the island and the Indian mainland and smashed hundreds of grass huts.

A radio message from the island, off the southeast coast of India, said the number of dead had not been determined and asked for an immediate airdrop of food and other emergency supplies.

Relief attempts were halted across south India Wednesday as the cyclone hit there with 150-mile winds.

Expect No Difficulty With Sewage Plant Building Permit

Twin Cities Project Should be OK'd Over Sportsmen's Protests

NEENAH - MENASHA — A engineers is concerned, there is no reason for any delay of the permit. Woosley concluded. Secondary treatment of sewage for the Twin Cities was ordered by the State Board of Health. The project has been backed by Virgil Achterberg, president of the Triple "C" Union of Sportsmen Ltd. since its inception. Spoil Fishing Achterberg contends the plant will spoil fishing in the bay area and damage fish spawning beds. He previously objected to the plant because he felt sewage would pollute the area. Achterberg said he has since been convinced the plant would prevent pollution. Achterberg has asked that the plant be built on shore, rather than on a jetty extending 270 feet into the bay. Robert Jones, consulting engineer for Donahue and Associates, project engineers says all avenues of other building locations have been exhausted and the only economical and practical place for the plant is on the site accepted by all concerned, except Achterberg. Four into Lake "Apparently our friend, (Achterberg) doesn't realize that no matter where the plant is built the affluent still will have to be poured into the lake," Jones said. The only difference is the affluent will be improved 90 per cent and approximately 27 tons of solids will be removed from the discharge. These solids at the present time are being dumped into the lake, Jones said.

Three Cars Damaged in Freak Mishaps

MENASHA — Three cars were damaged in two freak traffic accidents Wednesday night, and a pedestrian told Menasha police she had been hit by a car. Mrs. Robert P. Funk, 705 Paris St., told police she was struck by a car as she crossed Racine Street at Broad Street at 7:30 p.m. She said she did not think she was hurt and refused assistance from the driver and did not get his name. Later, she said her leg hurt. About $200 damage was caused to a car driven by Richard Zolkowski, 41, 229 Kaukauna St., when the vehicle hit a tree in front of 208 Water St. Zolkowski told police he applied his brakes to stop for a train, and the car skidded on ice. The accident happened about 8:20 p.m. In a line-of-traffic accident, an auto driven by Walter Roehr, 30, 616 Haylett St., Neenah, struck the rear of a car operated by Leo Butler, 47, 88 Cherry St., Appleton, on Naymut Street about 9:20 p.m. Butler told police he had stopped his car in the street when he became confused by a city sanding truck coming toward him with only one headlight working. He said he could not tell which side of the street the truck was on.

$200 Damage Result Of Kimberly Mishap

KIMBERLY—Over $200 damage resulted in a 2-car accident caused by the failure of brakes on one of the vehicles, according to village police. Cars driven by Sheldon E. Moss, 18, 530 Susan St., Kimberly, and Merlin Boettcher, 39, 219 E. Water St., Brillion, collided at S. Pine and E. First Streets about 2:40 p.m. Tuesday when the brakes on the Moss car failed, according to police.

Brewery Gives City of Oshkosh Christmas Present, Stern Wheeler

OSHKOSH — The City of Oshkosh may be the first and only city in the state to own its own paddle-wheel boat — a Christmas gift from David Uihlein, "Chief Oshkosh," president of the Oshkosh Brewery Co. Uihlein appeared before the common council at its Wednesday night workshop meeting to offer the boat to the city. There are no strings attached, sored council questions as to the upkeep costs, piloting and other items concerning the boat. The boat has become a familiar sight along the Fox River and lake area through its use for excursions as well as the products of its brewery owner. Council members took an informal vote on accepting the gift and found all seven members in unanimous agreement to accept the gift. Uihlein indicated the city could sell the boat whenever it wanted to do so. He said he had thought that with the coming of the new Pioneer Hotel and marina and the attracting of conventions to Oshkosh, it might be a good idea for the city to have his two-story stern wheeler for lake and river excursions.

Schedule for Appleton Garbage, Rubbish Collections Changed

Because of Christmas falling on a Friday, it has been necessary to make changes this week in Appleton's garbage and rubbish collection program. The revisions, covering this week only, were outlined by Public Works Director Robert W. Bues. Rubbish collections scheduled for today (Dec. 24) were made Wednesday. Those collections normally made on Friday were being made today. SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Robert Quinn, the Santa Claus of East Plaza Avenue, is back at his old job but in a new location. An engineer with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the stocky 32-year-old Irishman and his wife Pauline have no children. So he bought a bright red Santa suit and made nightly rounds of his neighborhood, passing out candy canes to children and listening to their Christmas wishes. Last Friday Quinn couldn't make it. He was hospitalized with a heart ailment. The neighborhood missed Santa. Quinn felt bad too. He asked his wife to bring his Santa suit to the hospital. And although his

3 Injured In Accidents

Slippery Conditions Cause 8 Appleton Automobile Crashes

Three persons received minor injuries in two automobile accidents on city streets Wednesday.

Struck in Rear
Their car was going west on W. Lawrence when it was struck in the rear by a car being driven by Dennis D. Hoier, 16, 100 N. State St. The accident occurred shortly after noon.

Valley Man to Aid Ecuador

Appleton Volunteer Joins Group of 40 In Peace Corps Task

An Appleton man will leave Jan. 3 for Ecuador where he will work as a Peace Corps Volunteer.

He is David Leo Huhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Huhn, 1117 W. Bell Ave., Appleton. Huhn is one of 40 volunteers who are now home on leave and will depart for Ecuador.

The corps already has 300 volunteers working in Ecuador on agricultural extension, rural and urban community development, secondary, university and physical education.

Crash Program
Through a crash program the government has built 200 schools since 1960. It hopes to complete another 1,000 by 1966. Only 20 per cent of the population is literate.

The task of the Peace Corps Volunteers is to organize village self-help committees, and then work with these committees in preparing for the school construction. They will not serve merely as supervisors, but will participate in the actual building whenever possible.

After completion of the school, they may remain in the community to assist in other activities such as recreation, health and sanitation, and literacy classes. The project is under the technical supervision of the Ecuadorean government's cooperative program of school construction.

Card List Proves Very Confusing

type of card should be sent to whom. This guy who never goes to church and who seems to have no faith would not appreciate a religious card. This single man cannot be sent a "from our family to your family" card. Thus cards must be scrutinized before being signed.

The signature, that's another problem. Should it be "Pat and Ed," "Eddie and Pat," "the Van Berkel's," or what? Some do not know us by our first names, others do not know our last. Then too, the better half received the nickname "Pat" from my side of the clan so those on her side still know her as "Marian." This too must be watched or the in-laws will not recognize a card bearing my name and a nickname.

I could go on with this tirade, but my wife just reminded me. The cards I signed and addressed early in November are still on the desk waiting for stamps and mailing, only a few days before Christmas. One thing, it only happens once each year. Speaking of wife, till my dying day I will never be able to understand how I became stuck with this business.

Beds are scarce in the nearby Peace Corps hostel as members pour into Lagos from posts in the bush. Volunteers are in more than 300 Nigerian communities. A weeklong series of reunions and one large party are scheduled. "The party will be loud but not very wild. We can't afford much liquor," said one girl. Volunteers are expected to undertake a "project" either during the Christmas or end-of-term vacations. Most take these up after classes end for the year, but several were busy this week. Stephen Ridley, 24, of Guilford, Maine, organized two dozen of his students to build a much-needed public latrine near the village of Iwaya. Sally Cytron of 236 N. Laperr, Beverly Hills, Calif., organized a recreation camp for boys from one Lagos school. 24 Boys "Have a good time," urged a hand-lettered sign at the campsite on a lagoon. Twenty-four boys learned elementary first aid, swimming, boating in dug-out canoes and sports. Corps members in Ibadan organized an elaborate art exhibit. One volunteer answered an appeal to inspect shrimp being prepared for export to the United States under a U.S. aid program. Another corpsman used donated materials and schoolboy volunteers to build a community trash bin. Others have helped out in game preserves, museums and a leprosyarium. "The long-range hope is that Nigerian volunteers in these self-help projects will be the nucleus for a sort of domestic Peace Corps," said Saltonstall.

NEVER LET A CHILD BE DISRESPECTFUL! GOOD □ BAD □

Bad. In some treatment situa- tions, a child is encouraged to talk back to his parents. One child said to his parents in a family counseling session. "If I told you how I really feel, you would clobber me." He was encouraged to go right ahead. One of the values of working out family problems with a psychologist, a psychiatrist or a social worker is that the family members feel safe in expressing their bad feelings about one another. This drains off the corrosive emotions and gives more positive feelings a chance to develop. Family conflicts are given a more detailed treatment in the booklet, "When A Family Faces Stress." Are the clergy the custodians of our morals? Yes— No— No, say some sociologists, it is the politicians. Regardless of what some people feel "ought" to be, the ultimate authority resides in political authority. The morals of the "politicos" may not be as "high" as those of some other groups, but they are more realistic and more

Old-Fashioned Christmas on Maine Island

Residents Make Community Affair Of Celebration

BY KENNETH H. MORRISON — MONHEGAN ISLAND, Maine (AP) — Dreaming of the quaint Christmas celebration of yester- year — far from jostling crowds, traffic jams and Santas here, there and everywhere? If so, take a boat to Monhegan Island where Christmas has the old fashioned, sprightly charm of a Grandma Moses painting. Monhegan, wearing a winter glint in the sea 15 miles off the coast of Maine. In summer, the island bustles with artists, summer residents and tourists. In winter the population shrinks to two dozen. The islanders celebrate Christmas like a large, close family. Everyone in Church Christmas Eve adults and children will set out from their homes across the crusted snow toward the village's non-denominational church, a 100-year-old white clapboard structure, aglow with gaslight and kerosene lamps. "Everyone who can walk and even the babies who can't walk will be there," says Pastor Gertrude Anderson, a former missionary to the Belgian Congo and Burma. The islanders come bearing baskets of gifts which they exchange. At church, there will be readings of the Scriptures, carol singing and an appearance by Santa Claus, not to mention the decorating of the community Christmas tree. "This year we have a full grown fir tree," says Pastor Anderson. Monhegan is a picturesque place at Christmas, says the pastor. Its dark green spruce trees are set off and sculptured by white snow. "It's like a Christmas card," she says. How do you go about Christmas shopping when you're 15 miles at sea? Some folk go to the mainland on the boat which runs to the island three days a week from Port Clyde. Small items may be picked up in the village. Mostly, shopping is done through mail-order catalogs. What happens if on the day before Christmas you find you've missed someone on your list? "Too bad. There's no boat on Thursday."

Sheinwold Chance Counts in Finesse

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You don't have to be a mathematician to play bridge well, but there's no harm in knowing something about probability. A simple principle may tell you how to finesse in the right direction.

West opens the three of spades, and East wins with the queen. East continues with the ace of spades and then with the king.

South should ruff with the nine if he thinks East has the queen of hearts. But if West has the queen, South should ruff with the ace of hearts through West for a finesse. How does South know?

Forget, if you can, that you are looking at all of the cards and that you can see which defender has the queen of hearts. You wouldn't know this (presumably) in an actual game, and you would have to use your brains instead of your eyesight.

The Opening Bid
You may consider playing East for any and all missing strength because of his opening bid. You should expect East to hold six spades to the A-K-Q.

All-Staters Have Holiday Dinner, Officer Installation

A "Holiday Prelude" was the theme for the All-Staters Civic Newcomers Club Christmas dinner and party. A social hour was held at 6:30 p.m. at Alex's Manor House and dinner was served at 7:30 p.m.

New officers were installed and entertainment, including a visit from Santa, took place. Co-chairmen for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Breitengross and Mr. and Mrs. John Green. Assisting the co-chairmen were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donahue.

and the ace of clubs, but the location of the queen of hearts is still in doubt.

The important feature is East's length in spades. You know about East's six spades and his ace of clubs, and there are only six unknown cards in the East hand. West has the 3-2 tom, they will wait until Friday morning to open their other side suits. The odds are therefore 11 to 6 that West rather than East has the queen of hearts.

If you prefer not to work things out so precisely, just remember the principle: When an opponent has unusual length in one suit, play the other opponent to have length (and even strength) in any other suit.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold S J 10 4, H K 8 7, D K Q 10 7, C J 10 6. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts. The question is whether to bid two hearts or one notrump. Since you have 10 points in high cards, you should prefer the raise in ground to add to the John-son holdings of 400 acres along the Peridarnales River.

Johnsons Ready for Holiday

JOHNSON CITY, Tx. (AP) — Christmas stockings marked "Daddy," "Mother," "Lynda," and "Luci" are hung by the chimney with care.

Colorful decorations of an eight-foot balsam tree sparkle in the President's library-office, and the Johnson family is ready for the excitement of Christmas at their ranch home.

There are a hand-made ornamental angel, pine cones and boughs of balsam on the mantles and stairways, a Nativity scene.

Mrs. Johnson says the ornamental angel which she received from a friend in Germany is a special favorite of hers. The First Lady did most of the decorating of the ranch home herself.

The President, Mrs. Johnson, and their daughters, Lynda, 20, and Luci, 17, will open their gifts from each other tonight. Then, if they follow their usual custom, they will wait until Friday morning to open their other packages.

The Johnsons plan to attend Christmas services at St. Barnabas Episcopal mission, 15 miles away in Fredericksburg.

For the holiday dinner there will be turkey and all the trimmings.

The Johnsons also spent last Christmas at the ranch and entertained 27 kindfolk at Christmas dinner in the President's 12-room stone and frame home.

Last year's Christmas was far from a relaxing one for the chief executive. He kept busy on the holiday inspecting his cattle, delivering poinsettias to his neighbors, and taking a speed-boat spin on a nearby lake.

He even took time last year to lease 40 acres more of "stomping ground" to add to the Johnson holdings of 400 acres along the Peridarnales River.

Stockbridge Unit Holds Yule Fest

STOCKBRIDGE — The Christian Mothers and Altar Society held its annual Christmas Party Monday night.

Several groups sang for the party, and gifts were exchanged. The Rev. William Willinger, spiritual adviser of the group, gave a short talk.

Lunch was served by Circle A. Mrs. Kenneth Schwab and Mrs. Charles Van den Bloom, chairmen, and Circle L. Mrs. Norbert Gillis and Mrs. Donald Hawley, chairmen.

The next meeting has been set for Feb. 22.

Couple Says Vows In Iowa

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bergstrom, Ogden. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Bryne, Sioux City, Iowa.

Miss Karen Bergstrom, the bride's sister, and Miss Marilyn Morris served as the bride's attendants.

Earl Lehman, Ames, Iowa, was best man. Groomsman was Carl Bergstrom. Ushers were David Bergstrom, Larry Weil, Gary Bryne and Gary Titus.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlors. The couple will live at 1818 Henry St.

Mrs. Bryne attended Iowa State University of Science and Technology, Ames. Her husband was graduated from Iowa State University, Ames. He is an engineer at American Can Co.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Conway will host a family gathering at their home Saturday. Relatives from Appleton and Neenah will attend. The Conway's Christmas tree will be trimmed in Early American decor with popcorn balls, popcorn, candy canes, red candied cherries on wire, sticks of gum left in the foil wrapping and tied to tree branches with ribbon, elves made of felt and tiny silver bells made of tin foil that have been in the family for 25 years. Home made German souse has become a traditional food served in the family for many generations. A Viennese Christmas mas also will be served. Recipes for both have been handed down from daughter to daughter beginning with Mrs. Conway's great-grandmother who came from Vienna, Austria.

Writer Mystified by Aunt's Reliable Weather Predicting

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is not a problem but it is a mild annoyance. A sentence or two from you could put my mind at ease.

My great aunt, who is 71 years old, telephones me every day to forecast the weather. She is not a meteorologist, she has had no scientific background, she owns no instruments — nothing that might help her make an accurate prediction — yet she never misses. It drives me crazy.

Ann Landers

Sometimes Auntie disagrees with the newspaper and TV forecasters. When there is disagreement, she is right and they are wrong.

Last week we had storm warnings with predictions of high winds, thunder showers, and possible hail. Auntie phoned to say, "There will be no storm. Go ahead and have the picnic."

I cancelled the picnic and the day turned out to be the loveliest of the season. Naturally Auntie phoned to day, "I told you so."

When I ask her how she does it she smiles and says, "I feel it in my bones." Can you explain why the awful hurt? To quote him, "Look. Here I am. Nothing has been left anywhere. Everything is still here for you."

it? — Puzzlement in California
Dear Puzzlement: What the old girl probably has going for her is a bunion, an old fracture — and a pretty good guesser. But don't let on that you know. This is probably the most fun she has!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: No initials and no city, please. If I'm identified I'm ruined.

Tell me, Ann, why is a wife crushed when she discovers her husband has been unfaithful? What is she afraid of? Nothing tangible has been lost. Her husband is still parking his boots at home. He still loves her. The security of the home has not been threatened. He has no intention of leaving. She is, in the only important sense, his one and only. The other woman was a fleeting (and poor) substitute.

I can understand jealousy — tender moments have been given to someone else. I can also understand anger — "How can he do this to me?" But "him," "Look. Here I am. Nothing has been left anywhere. Everything is still here for you."

Intellectually I know all the answers. But why am I devastated by my husband's occasional flings? — His Wife

Dear Wife: A husband's cheating is painful to a wife because of the unspoken implication that she is inadequate. These women miss the real point: the husband is inadequate.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I announced my engagement to this man a year ago last December. We are not children, Ann. We are both in our late 20's. We've kept steady company for three years. This is the record and I'd like your views. The wedding date has been set four times. Each time it had to be postponed. First he broke his leg. I know he didn't break it on purpose, but nonetheless we had to cancel the plans eight days before the wedding.

Two months later he developed a mysterious fever and had to be hospitalized six days before the wedding. The following month the date was set for the 15th. On the 10th he suddenly lost his hearing and had to fly East to see a specialist.

Last week we were all set — and his mother broke out with giant hives. He now says we can't be married until his mother recovers.

I'd like your ideas. — Wilted Bouquet

Dear Wilted: This man's subconscious (and his mother) are protecting him against a marriage he doesn't want. If you succeed in becoming his wife (during an attack of good health) you'll probably regret it.

Parents are people — they can be right and they can be wrong. To help understand their viewpoint and to promote harmony at home, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Baby Quads Present No Gift Problem

BY DON BANDY
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A biblical quartet of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John adds to the Christmas spirit — and problems — at the Robert L. Mincey home.
"It's trouble enough buying for five, but when your family's been increased by four in the same year — wow!" said Mincey, whose quadruplet sons celebrate their first Christmas Friday.
"We're not planning anything special for them — except to get them some more diapers and other baby things," said Mincey. "There will be some toys, too. They're too young for much else."
Seven Months Old
The identical youngsters were seven months old Tuesday.
"They're good babies. Just like angels," said Mincey's wife, Willie Mae, 39. "After I put them to bed that's usually it until morning."
Mincey, 44, already had four boys to buy gifts for — Dudley, 17, Robert Jr., 12, Willy Lewis, 10, and Michael, 7 — plus one girl, Betty Jo, 16.
This is a special Christmas for the family for another reason.
"Our Christmas is really this new house," Mincey, a drill press operator, said, "and we sure needed it."
Bracelets Identify
The Minceys moved just a few days ago from a three-bedroom house into a two-story one with five bedrooms — one a dormitory room for the quads. Neigh-

Matthew, Mark, Luke and John Mincey, quadruplet sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Mincey, Cincinnati, will observe their first Christmas Friday. No special gifts are planned this year, for the quads were just seven months old Tuesday. The Mincey family recently moved into a new home with five bedrooms and a dormitory room for the quads. The Minceys also have five other children, four boys and a girl. The quads are no trouble, say their parents. "All you have to do is keep them clean and their stomachs full."

Remove the valve from a trou- ble-free radiator and try is on one giving you trouble. If the radiator functions properly, a new valve is necessary.

Air Force Reserve Study Incomplete

Recommendations on Merger With Air Guard Due Jan. 25

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force recommendations on merging the Air Reserve and the Air National Guard are due Jan. 25, it was learned today.

This is only six days before retirement of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay as Air Force chief of staff. LeMay is reputed to favor combining the 72,000-man Air Guard into the 182,000-man Air Reserve.

But there appears to be considerable high level sentiment to accomplish the merger in the other direction — to eliminate the Air Reserve and leave only the Air Guard.

This was the pattern set for distasteful villages," said the President.

Most of the men there will eat a sumptuous Christmas dinner despite the war but for others in the field Friday will be just another day of war.

Comedian Bob Hope evoked a wildly enthusiastic welcome with a surprise visit to an air base in Viet Nam. The troops were told Hope would arrive only a few hours before he entertained them.

"This is the fifth time I've seen Bob Hope overseas at Christmas," said one delighted soldier.

More fortunate American servicemen elsewhere in the world were not engaged in open warfare.

In South Korea, another divided nation, U.S. servicemen will light a 20-foot cross on a hill overlooking Communist positions across the demilitarized zone.

Provide for Needy
"Christmas or New Year makes no difference. The patrol duty will go on," said a soldier of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division.

In West Germany, Lt. Gen. William W. Quinn of the U.S. 7th Army urged his men to pause and "reflect upon the ancient Christian message of peace on fellow man."

The U.S. Army's Berlin brigade is playing host to more than 2,000 needy persons in West Berlin. In return, more than 200 American soldiers have been invited to share traditional roast goose in Berlin homes.

Thousands of West Berliners passed through the Berlin wall to spend the holiday with relatives in the Communist sector of the divided city. The Communists permit the crossing by special agreement with the West Berlin government.

Services in Jerusalem
In the holy city of Jerusalem the wall between Jordan and Israel opened today to let Christian Arabs from Israel join their families in Jordan for Christmas. As dawn broke, a small nun — the first visitor — walked through the Mandelbaum Gate. Some 4,500 are expected to cross in all.

There was no sign of tension at the gate despite a new clash Wednesday between Jordanians and Israelis.

Max Conrad, 61, America's living granddaddy expected a lonely Christmas Day flying over the Atlantic Ocean. He took off today from South Africa in an attempt to break his own world record for light planes by flying nonstop to New Orleans. He is due in Louisiana Saturday.

Thousands Homeless In Western Floods

low Creek and Hoopa, in the heart of an Indian reservation, took refuge in the high school gymnasium on high ground.

Pepperwood, population 500, is gone — nothing visible but a few tree tops above the sea of water, air observers reported.

In Carberryville, three pregnant women were reported in labor and in need of medical care.

Civil defense officials have written off the flood communities of South Fork, Myers Flat, Stafford and Weott, whose residents fled Tuesday.

Live on Island
Since 5 a.m. Wednesday the 2,500 inhabitants of Guerneville have lived on an island in the midst of the swirling Russian River. In the Little Stork Club saloon rescuers and flood victims stood knee-deep in mudwaters, making jokes about the sign "No Dancing Allowed."

Farther north near the coast, at city of Eureka, about 1,000 refugees, including women and small children, stood on high sections of U.S. 101 waving to produce flown from San Francisco to Eureka and promised unlimited credit to victims.

A 20-man search party plowed through dense underbrush 20 miles north of Eureka toward the wreckage of a Coast Guard helicopter downed Tuesday.

A search plane spotted the wreckage late Wednesday, but there was no indication that the three crewmen had survived.

Car Plunges Off Bridge
Only one known death has been reported in the state, and that came Tuesday when a Montana man's car plunged off a bridge into a river.

In Idaho, some 50 motorists and truckers remained stranded between two massive snow slides and helicopters flew to the scene to fly them out as temperatures dropped below freezing.

The Idaho National Guard stood by ready to evacuate Declo, a community of 300 as Marsh Creek flowed over its banks.

Reno, Nev. escaped what residents feared would be its most disastrous flood when rain halted early in the day and the Truckee River's rush through the city slowed somewhat.

"It looks like we're going to squeeze our way through," said a Civil Defense worker.

In other parts of the nation, near blizzard conditions were reported in the northern Plains. Cold, snow and strong winds hit helicopters that rushed in with relief supplies.

For many children it will be a sad Christmas. Trees and gifts became unessential baggage in the flight from the rushing waters. Hundreds will spend it in high school gymnasiums, Red Cross Shelters or sharing it with strange families.

14 Counties Hit Hard
California's 14 flood-stricken counties, with their total population of 558,200, cover 37,802 square miles — most of it wooded, mountainous terrain that makes rescue operations and communications almost impossible.

The Red Cross beefed up its forces in key areas to supply clothing, bedding and food.

Police from as far south as San Francisco were flown in to rescue exhausted sheriff's deputies in northwestern Humboldt County.

The aircraft carrier Bennington steamed toward Eureka today to add its 20 helicopters to those of the Coast Guard.

A large food chain ordered 40,000 pounds of canned goods and reported in the northern Plains. Cold, snow and strong winds hit

Economic Gains In Santa's Bag For Almost All

Past Year Has Been Unusually Kind to Everyone

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Santa's sleigh will be more jam-packed tonight with goodies than ever before. There will be one or more economic gains for almost every American — workers, investors, merchants, consumers, manufacturers, taxpayers — to mark a year that has been more than usually kind to most.

Wall Streeters are happy with the biggest volume of stock trading ever. For many brokerage house workers there are visions of big year-end bonuses.

Main Streeters are rejoicing in record retail sales — with no letdown yet in sight — and with customers upgrading their purchases this year.

Increased Incomes
Consumers are counting increased incomes from larger take-home pay or fees or investments. And they can be relieved to know that the cost of living, while still rising slowly, isn't trying to jump higher than Santa's reindeer, as some had feared earlier in the year.

Stockholders are rejoicing that dividends are running 10 per cent above 1963, that year-end extras have been generous and that the year has produced a spurt of stock splits, as well as generally higher stock prices than a year ago.

Savers are all set to get higher interest on their savings accounts.

Borrowers Content
Borrowers are content after their fashion that there is plenty of money to finance their projects and purchases and that charges haven't gone up as they threatened to for a time.

Auto workers will be celebrating the most generous financial package their union and employers have ever put together.

Steel workers will be dreaming of an equally bountiful pact before spring. And their employers are enjoying record production and sales, rising profits, higher prices on some of their products, and smiles instead of frowns from the White House.

Many railroads are celebrating their return to higher ground of volume of business and profits, after years of being stalled in the lowlands.

Airlines, with most of their jets now paid for, are receiving the fruits of traffic growth and revenues in the form of profits instead of losses.

More Business
Manufacturers, as a whole, are doing more business and hiring more workers and planning larger and faster expansion than they were last Christmas time. And many are taking advantage of relaxed depreciation rules that can sweeten earnings now, instead of some time in the future.

Millions of taxpayers are happy right now that the federal income tax rates have been lowered. And Santa will be reminding them tonight that the rates will be lowered a bit more in the New Year. There are also promises of cuts in other federal levies such as the excise ones that resemble sales taxes.

Laird May Be Interested In Policy Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin is expected to let it be known next week that he is interested in becoming chairman of the House Republican Conference.

That high policy job in the party's house organization is being vacated by Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, who is seeking to unseat Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana as House GOP leader.

Although Laird is not expected to announce formally that he is a candidate for the chairmanship, it was learned that he plans to inform all the other 139 House Republicans by telegraph or telephone that he is interested in the position.

Laird, 42, was chairman of the platform committee at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco in July. There had been some talk that he might seek Halleck's job but he has maintained that he is not a candidate for the House Republican leadership.

The GOP House members will meet the morning of Jan. 4, prior to the convening of Congress, to decide between Halleck and Ford for the leadership job and to select the new chairman of the Republican Conference.

Here Are Suggestions When Staying at Hotels

BY SYLVIA PORTER
 Hundreds of times over the years I've felt either an utter fool or a naive female when I've been alone on business trips out of town and have had to tip at hotels. Have I undertipped? Overlipped? Forgotten a deserving employee?

What are the proper standards for tipping at good hotels in average to above-average economic areas?

When I interviewed Ernest Henderson, chairman of Sheraton Corp. of America, a worldwide chain of 95 hotels, in New York City last week, this was one question I urged him to answer for me (and you). He says the following guides apply to motor inns as well as hotels in large cities.

Here Are Suggestions
 — Doorman: When he meets you at your cab or car and carries your luggage into the lobby, tip him 50 cents. Make it $1 if you have more than two bags. When he hails a taxi for you, 25 cents is the usual tip. If, though, you're signing in at a resort hotel for a stay of a week time and effort the waiter has or more, give the doorman $1. The first time he gets you a cab, 25 cents is so he'll want to help you — and enough. But, says Henderson, if then go down to the 25 cents he brings you ice and a couple level. If all the doorman does when you arrive is smile and open your door, all you need give him in return is a smile.

 — Bellhop: When, after you've registered, the bellhop tip him on the same basis as takes your bags to your room.

Porter

you tipped the doorman. Of course, if the bellhop has had to carry particularly heavy or cumbersome luggage, your tip should reflect it. Any time he delivers something to you, tip him 25 cents — even if it's only cigarettes or razor blades or a newspaper you requested.

Depends on Service
 — Room Service: The tip here should depend on the amount of resort hotel for a stay of a week time and effort the waiter has or more, give the doorman $1. The first time he gets you a cab, 25 cents is so he'll want to help you — and enough. But, says Henderson, if then go down to the 25 cents he brings you ice and a couple level. If all the doorman does should be 50 cents. If you have the waiter bring in a bar with bottles of liquor, ice, mixer and a tray of d'oeuvres, you should tip at least $1 and perhaps more. If you decide to stay in your room for dinner, tip on the same basis as you would in the restaurant — 15 to 20 per cent of the check.

— Chambermaid: The criterion here is also whether or she has done anything difficult or time-consuming for you during your stay. If you spend a few nights in a commercial hotel, you're not expected to leave anything for her. But if you have a group in your room for cocktails and she has to do a big cleaning job later, reward her with $1 or $2. In a resort or deluxe hotel, the standard tip for a chambermaid who has done nothing extra for you is $2 if you're alone and have stayed up to a week and $3 for a couple. The tip should be higher if you have required special service.

— Valet: Usually 50 cents per delivery. If you give the valet a rush order, though, or ask for an extraordinary service — say a suit pressed and back within 30 minutes — give him $1.
In Foreign Countries
 — International travel: If you've traveled abroad, you already know that in most foreign countries, a legal service charge of 15-22 per cent is added to your hotel bill. This money is distributed to the hotel's service personnel — chambermaids, doormen, valets, etc. In spite of this overall service charge, however, you are still expected to tip for individual services. Under the circumstances, hold down these individual tips to 5-10 per cent of the amounts you normally would tip in a U.S. hotel.

If you're a typical traveler, some of Henderson's tips on tipping may startle you. I confess I never entered my mind to give a waiter 50 cents if he brings you a bottle of soda water along with the ice against only 25 cents if he brings you just a bucket of ice. But Henderson is the expert and so I'll make another confession. Yes, I have been both an utter fool and a naive female. For I have consistently both undertipped and overlipped and frequently forgotten a deserving employee.

But Henderson is the expert and so I'll make another confession. Yes, I have been both an utter fool and a naive female. For I have consistently both undertipped and overlipped and frequently forgotten a deserving employee.

Board Lukewarm To Park Proposal

Public Works Members Question if Appleton Should Spend $100,000

Members of the board of public works have questioned a proposal to purchase 95 acres in the Town of Grand Chute for future park purposes.

The land offered for sale to the City of Appleton is west of Ballard Road and north of Northland Avenue.

Malofsky Low Police Car Bidder

Sam Malofsky Motor Co., 1850 W. Wisconsin Ave., has submitted the low bid on five new squad cars for the Appleton Police Department.

The bids were opened by the board of public works after a lengthy discussion on what belt" they say if the city should and should not be included in specifications. With trade-ins, Malofsky will sell the city five new Ramblers for $6,464 with delivery within 30 days. The firm's bid was about $500 low.

Other bids included those of Gibson, Inc., Oshkosh, Chevrolet, $6,977. Sherry Motors, Appleton, Ford, $6,985, and Al Rudolph Motors Appleton, Mercury, $6,228.

The police department presently has Ramblers.

In other action, the board: — Rejected all bids received on a station wagon for the fire department and agreed to re-advertise.

— Also rejected one bid on overhead aluminum signs and will re-advertise. The rejections were due to technicalities.

Appleton Man Gets One-Year Reformatory Term on Morals Count

WAUPACA — Charles Gryon, 25, 130 S. Oneida St., Appleton, was sentenced Wednesday by Waupaca County Judge Wendell McHenry to serve one year in the Wisconsin State Reformatory, Green Bay, on a morals count.

He was taken into custody after his probation officer complained that Gryon had engaged in lewd and lascivious conduct with a 23-year-old Appleton woman.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONG FELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Christmas Cards Can be Displayed as Transparency

BY CAPPY DICK

Some of the prettiest Christmas cards a boy or girl has received can be displayed as window transparencies. But preparing them properly, the pictures will be visible from both sides, instead from only one side.

Choose half a dozen of the most handsome cards, especially those that are printed on paper, rather than on stiff, thick stock. Cut the picture portion off, leaving a half-inch border all around. There must be no printing or writing on the reverse side.

With a wad of cotton, rub the picture with olive oil, first on one side, then the other. Allow the oil to soak into the paper; remove the excess with a clean cloth or paper towel.

Olive Oil

You will find the olive oil has made the paper sufficiently transparent for the picture on the front side to show through in full color on the reverse side when light shines through it.

From either side the picture will look somewhat like a big photograph color slide.

With bits of transparent tape, stick the half-dozen framed transparencies to a sunny window pane. You will be surprised how attractive they are when sunlight shines through.

1280 on Your Radio Dial

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's our life, and I'm used to it. I think a lot of people try to fight against the kind of life they have, and they end up making themselves miserable. It's much easier to accept the life you have, and enjoy it."

This was the philosophy of Dolores Hope as she faced another Christmas without her husband, the ubiquitous Bob. While he is entertaining American soldiers in South Viet Nam, she will be spending Christmas at their home in North Hollywood.

There will be no sighs, no regrets. "Our holiday has pretty much fallen into a routine," Mrs. Hope explained. "It's not like other people's, but it has its compensations." The routine is this: before his departure overseas, Bob spends a half-day selecting gifts of fruit and sent to friends all over the United States. About 10 days before Christmas, he departs with his troupe. Mrs. Hope completes the shopping, has Christmas Eve dinner with the children. In recent years, eldest son Tony also has been on the trip with Bob.

The stay-at-home Hopes attend midnight Mass and in the morning open a few of their gifts. Then they have Christmas dinner with close friends.

"Last year it was the Crosby's," Mrs. Hope said. "They were wanted to come up to their home at Burlingame this year, but it was too far for us."

Long Celebration
Bob often calls home during his trips, but seldom on Christmas Day. "That's his busiest day," he does three or four shows in widely separated places," his wife explained. "The time difference also makes it difficult."

He returns a few days after Christmas and then the celebration really begins. Assorted

Hopes come out from Cleveland to join the festivities. Last year the crowd for dinner numbered 32, only two of them non-Hopes. The family celebration continues until Epiphany, Jan. 6.

This week Mrs. Hope was busy with preparations for Christmas and Bob's return. One of her favorite chores is overseeing the setting up of the manger scene that overlooks the street in front of the house. Carved almost life-size in wood by Italian artists, it depicts three successive portions of the Christmas story.

I asked Mrs. Hope if she didn't regret not having her husband home for Christmas some years.

"Not any more," she replied. "I used to — until I went along on one of the tours. 'Since then I've had no reservations — as long as Bob is up to the trip. 'Regrets? Not a one. God has been awfully good to us. We've had a wonderful life."

Christmas Spreads Out On TV Today

BY TV SCOUT

10:15-10:30 (Channel 4-5) — Christmas Card to the Nation highlights a 7-year-old boy, Tad Holmes, reading the story of the Nativity. Sammy Davis reads "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Gary Graffman is piano soloist, Jan McArt sings carols, old-fashioned toys will "perform," and the Norman Luboff Choir and Joe Klein at the carillon will supply traditional music. (COLOR)

10:30-11 (Channel 2) — The Sound of Christmas takes viewers to the Trapp Family Lodge in Stowe, Vt., where Baroness Maria Von Trapp plays hostess to the 12 members of The Burke Family Singers.

7:30 - 8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Ebenezer Scrooge, in the person of Rip Torn, apparently dying of some kind of heart disease, locks horns with Dr. Kildare. Torn likes to expose the world's greed, so he gives away a shoe box full of money. Then he finds he won't die, and he wants it all back.

8-8:30 (Channel 11) — Ebenezer Scrooge, in the person of young Billy Mumy, comes to Bewitched. He is a disbeliever in Santa Claus, a problem youngster spending the holidays with Elizabeth Montgomery. And she is a great one to have around at Christmas.

8:30-9 (Channel 4-5) — Ebenezer Scrooge, in the person of Don De Fore, runs up against Detectives at 2:20, 7:20, 9:50. Hazel, who he says Christmas is too commercial, we won't ex-

Pipe Organ to Debut in Christmas Eve Service

Trinity Lutheran Church to Use $39,000 Instrument in Cantata of Senior Choir

Trinity Lutheran Church's was delayed until it could be financed by a special fund separated from the building campaign.

Installation was almost completed Tuesday by a crew from M. P. Moeller, Inc., Hagerstown, Md., largest pipe organ manufacturer in the country. The Christmas music will be introduced by the instrument. One without chimes. Workmen will return after the first of the year to complete that part of the job.

The organ's debut is set for the 11 p.m. Christmas Eve service, when the church senior choir will present a cantata, "The Miracle of Bethlehem."

Used Electronic Organ
The church has been using an electric organ for more than three years. Services were held for a year in the Knights of Pythias hall while the church was being remodeled and enlarged. Purchase of the organ proved to be a moving experience for choir members during a special rehearsal Sunday. Organist Mrs. Leone Ferron played "A Mighty Fortress" to introduce the instrument. One long-time choir member, tears streaming down her face, asked, "How can you be so calm?"

The organ is located in the balcony at the rear of the church, immediately behind the choir pews. The three-manual console, built to match the church furnishings, is in front of the choir at the balcony rail.

The organ has 1,632 pipes, ranging from 16 feet in length to the size of a pencil. Bass pipes are made of zinc. Others are of lead and tin, or wood.

The "wind machine" provides 3 1/4 pounds per square inch of pressure to the bass pipes and 3 1/4 pounds to the others.

There are 32 notes on the pedal keyboard and 30 stops to provide the sounds of flute, strings, reeds, chimes and diapason (the pipe organ sound sometimes called principal) in various combinations.

The organ was custom-built, sort of sleeve which can be its "lip." The air vibrates, thus which won't be ready until after creating the sound. The principle

Child Blends Into Holiday Decorations

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Two-year-old Kitty Wolcott has a Christmas problem she is taking in stride. Her trouble: she's allergic to the Christmas tree.

She has big red spots all over her arms and face.

"She sort of blends in with the other Christmas decorations," said James W. Wolcott of his daughter.

"Everytime she goes near the tree she breaks out in a rash. It didn't seem to bother her last year.

"She started breaking out when she helped decorate the tree last Friday. We took her to an allergist and he immediately diagnosed the problem.

Explanation Given

"We explained to Kitty about her allergy and told her she could look at the tree but 'mustn't touch'. She has been real good about it. She's taking it in stride."

Kitty wears stocking mittens on her arms and hands to keep from scratching. A doctor said the resin in trees causes the rash. Kitty doesn't get sick, but she "becomes pretty miserable" at times, Wolcott said.

"We've been thinking of buying artificial trees from now on," he said. "The tree we have now comes down the day after Christmas."

Mrs. Wolcott suggested: "We could buy a real tree again next year, but put it out on the patio and look at it through the window."

Rote to Get Starting Nod at Quarterback for San Diego

Expect Pro Vet to Retire After Title Tilt

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Quarterback Tobin Rote, who says he is retiring at the end of this season, will start for the San Diego Chargers in the American Football League championship game Saturday with Buffalo.

Rote, a veteran of 15 years of Saturday and Sunday nights in professional football, got the starting assignment Wednesday night.

Gillman said Rote's experience made him the choice over John Hadl, the Chargers' starting quarterback through most of the season.

"Tobin has never lost a big game," Gillman said. "He has won Little Chute St. John (4-4) and lost a few battles but he has in the nightcap, slated for 8:30 (1963-64) FVCC scoring king."

Rote led Detroit to a 57-14 win Valley of the Vics in the 1958 National Football League championship game. He directed the Chargers to a 55-10 triumph over Boston in the AFL playoff.

Elgin Baylor Leads Lakers To 135-117 Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Elgin Baylor, his leg trouble apparently a thing of the past, is looking like the Baylor of old these days.

The evidence: 83 points in his last two games.

Baylor collected 43 points Wednesday night in leading the Los Angeles Lakers to a 135-117 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers.

It was his best performance since March of 1963 when he contributed 46 points to the Lakers cause.

He got strong help Wednesday from LeRoy Ellis and Jim King. Together with Baylor, they served to make up for the loss of stars Jerry West and Rudy LaRusso—both sidelined with back injuries.

Ellis put in 23 points and King 16.

Playoff Game Means $8,000 Each to Victors

Baltimore Still Rated 6 to 7 Point Favorite

BY LOU MIO CLEVELAND. (AP) — Christmas is Dec. 27 as far as the Baltimore Colts and Cleveland Browns are concerned. That's the date of the National Football League championship game in Municipal Stadium, and Santa will leave over $8,000 in each winner's stocking. Each loser will receive over $5,000.

Radio and television receipts are $1.8 million.

The game will be witnessed by about 83,000 here, an attendance drop in the bucket when compared with the television audience scattered over 98.1 percent of the country and into Canada, where 30 French-language stations will be among those telecasting the action.

No Snow Forecast

Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. EST. The Weather Bureau predicts temperatures in the upper 20s or low 30s, but as of Thursday no snow is forecast.

The Colts have been a 6-to-7 point favorite for about a week now.

The outcome could hang on several questions.

Can the Browns' defense line get to Colts' quarterback Johnny Unitas, considered the best player in the NFL?

Can the Colts contain fullback Jim Brown, the league's leading rusher and also considered the best in his trade?

How about the receivers?

The Browns must handle flanker Jimmy Orr and ends Ray Berry and John Mackey.

Baltimore will meet rookie flanker Paul Warfield for the first time. The former Ohio State halfback who has earned double coverage by many NFL teams. Also, the visitors can't neglect flanker Gary Collins or end Johnny Brewer, two veterans who know their way around a defensive backfield with a diagram.

Cleveland's fortunes may rest in the hands of quarterback Frank Ryan, the mathematics wizard from Rice University who has engineered the Browns' good and bad days in directing Cleveland to a 10-3-1 record and the Eastern Division title.

Completion Record

Ryan can scramble out of the pocket and statistically he appears on a par with Unitas.

Wilson Quits in Wake of Power Struggle at Detroit

Owner Ford Says He Will Take Time in Getting New Coach

DETROIT (AP) — George Wilson quit as head coach of the Detroit Lions Wednesday in the wake of an apparent power struggle over the extent of his authority under millionaire owner William Clay Ford.

The resignation came less than 48 hours after Wilson was said to have agreed in a conference with some players had complained about a variety of problems to top Lions brass over Wilson's head.

Ford was asked by a newsman if Wilson, coach since 1957, had been stripped of his authority to make player trades and run his staff as he saw fit.

Ford replied: "The authority

George Wilson

Wilson walked hurriedly out of the Lions' offices without comment Wednesday.

"It's Wilson's decision," said Ford. "I'd rather the reasons came from him."

Wilson was not available for comment.

Friendly Terms

Ford said he was "surprised and disappointed" at Wilson's decision. He added "We parted on friendly terms. He's a fine fellow, but in the long run we may both be better off."

Ford said the 51-year-old Wilson phoned him Wednesday and the two men met for an hour, apparently to work out a "mutually satisfactory" agreement on the remainder of Wilson's contract. The three-year pact, calling for a reported $47,000 a year, still had a year to run.

Ford said Wilson indicated he did not have another job. There have been rumors Wilson would become head coach of the rival National Football League Chicago Bears but he has denied them.

The split between Ford and Wilson was generated last weekend by word that Wilson aides Bob Nussbaumer, Don Doll and Les Bingham had been fired. The reports were confirmed Monday when Ford said two other assistants, Aldo Forte and Sonny Grandelius, also had been fired following the Ford-Wilson-Anderson huddle.

Wilson had hired all the assistants except Forte.

The firings followed reports

GREEN BAY — Minus star goal-getter George Hill, the Green Bay Bobcats attempt to fend off Marquette's streaking lion Rangers at the Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena Saturday night. The first face off is scheduled at 8 p.m.

Marquette, which skates into action with a 3-game winning streak, will be out to dislodge the Bobcats from second place (which they hold by a slim half game over the youthful Rangers.)

Two previous meetings have produced a standoff. The Bobcats triumphed, 5-3, in the Bays' home opener Dec. 5, but the lion Rangers won by the same score in a Dec. 10 rematch at Marquette's Palestra.

Hill, who registered the 3-goal hat trick to play a major role in the Bobcats' 7-6 overtime decision last weekend, has been called to his Flin Flon, Manitoba home by the illness of his mother.

Cincinnati Records Fifth Straight Win

Ohio U. Spills Northwestern; Boston College Edged by LA State

BY TED MEIER
This will be a happy Christmas for Ed Jucker, the basketball coach at the University of Cincinnati.

His Bearcats, who won the national collegiate championship in 1951 and 1952 and just missed an unprecedented third straight crown in 1953, are on the way back. They didn't qualify for the NCAA championship tournament last season.

Jucker's boys won their fifth straight Wednesday night with a 71-56 home court victory over Oregon State. Five baskets in quick succession by sophomore Jerry Cousins broke a 41-41 tie and the Beavers never caught up.

The Bearcats now boast a 6-1 record. They beat George Washington in their opener, then lost to Miami of Ohio. Since then they have swept Louisville, Kansas, Centenary, Denver and Oregon State. Their next game is a first-round game against Temple Monday night in the Holiday Festival at New York, a tournament in which they might encounter top-ranked Michigan.

Warmed Up
Michigan warmed up for its first round game against Manhattan by crushing Butler 99-51. A crowd of 8,000 packed the Yonkers Fieldhouse at Yonkers to watch the Wolverines shake up their sixth victory in seven games. Cazzie Russell scored 21 points and Bill Buntin 19.

The fifth-ranked San Francisco Dons, the only other team in the Associated Press Top Ten, made it six straight wins by defeating Utah State 86-71. Big Ollie Johnson, with 28 points and 22 rebounds, led the Dons in their easy victory at San Francisco.

Villanova and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia also played in the urban class and upped their records to 7-0. Villanova, coached by Frank McGuire, defeated Bowling Green 64-54 and has a 45-yard rushing average in the opener of a doubleheader at age.

Philadelphia Temple whipped Pennsylvania 75-59 in the opener of a doubleheader at the Paley.

Army on its way to next week's Far West Classic at Portland, Ore. was edged at Detroit, Mich. in losing to the Flyers 41-33. The Cadets played a close control game that aroused the fans.

No Fun to Watch
Taylor Locke, the Army coach, said afterwards that he sympathized with the fans because this type of game is no fun to watch. He explained he employed the ball control tactic to help protect the injured ankle of Mike Sullivan, the Cadets' star.

The Murray State Thunderbolts, who lost last week in the line of the San Diego Clash at Tempe, Ariz., won the NFL game at the University of Cincinnati.

Standing-Room Tickets Go on Sale in Cleveland
CLEVELAND, AP — Fans flocked to early Wednesday to buy standing-room tickets for the Cleveland Browns game at the University of Cincinnati.

A club spokesman said more than 100 persons were standing in line in a drizzling rain half an hour before the tickets went on sale.

The temperature stood in the mid-40s.

Snatching room will cost $2 and there will be a 50-cent surcharge for food. It all are sold as a lottery, it would mean $100,000 in proceeds.

Capelletti, Blanda Set New AFL Marks

Charley Hennigan's 101 Receptions Snap Old Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Gino Capelletti, Boston's premier punter, and the super-charged Houston battery of George Blanda and Charley Hennigan led an assault on the American Football League record book in 1964.

Capelletti, The Associated Press AFL Player of the Year, broke his own all-time scoring mark while Blanda's pitching and Hennigan's catching established three single-season aerial records, final league figures reveal.

The Patriots' place kicker scored seven touchdowns, booted 25 field goals and accounted for 37 points after touchdowns for a total of 155 points, eight more than his previous league high set in 1961.

Hennigan's 101 pass receptions topped by one the all-pro mark set by Denver's Leno Taylor three years ago. Blanda, the Oilers' 36-year-old signal caller, smashed season records for pass attempts, 595, and completions, 262. Denver passer Frank Tripucka had set marks of 478 and 248 in 1960.

Dawson Leads
Kansas City's Len Dawson threw less than Blanda but made his losses pay off in the league's efficiency ratings. Dawson received the top grade of 56 points, based on completion percentage, yards gained, touchdowns, etc., and won the passing crown for the second time in three seasons.

He paced the league with a 62.2 completion mark and flipped 30 scoring passes, one less than league-leader Babe Parilli of Boston.

Goode's clutch of the Eastern champion Buffalo Bills retained the rushing title he lost to Oakland's Clem Daniels last season. Goode rambled for 891 yards, finishing 96 yards in front of New York rookie Marv Stoen. Daniels came off a slow start and wound up third with 823 yards.

Stoen, Houston's Sid Blanks, Kansas City's Mark Hill and placekickers Pete Gogolak of Buffalo and Jim Turner of New York led a bumper crop of AFL freshmen.

Wilson Put Job on Line Many Times in 15 Years With Lions

Some Fans Still Angered Over Trade Of Layne to Steelers

DETROIT (AP) — George Wilson is a down-faced man who looks depressed even when he smiles.

But he knows football and has the patience of Job, a quality often strained in 15 years with the Detroit Lions, eight as head coach.

Wilson quit his job Wednesday. He had batted owner William Clay Ford for the right to run his team his way and lost.

It wasn't the first time Wilson put his job on the firing line.

He went from a National Football League title in 1957, his first year in charge, to fifth place the next year with a 4-11 record.

Some Lions' fans are still angry over the trade which sent the idolized quarterback Bobby Layne to Pittsburgh in 1958.

Layne had broken a leg the year before and Tomlin, then, obtained from Green Bay led the championship drive. It included a 31-27 victory over San Francisco for the Western Division title and a 50-14 thrashing of Cleveland in the NFL championship game.

Wilson later admitted that he should have traded Rote instead of Layne. With Rote at quarterback, the Lions again finished fifth the next year, winning only three games. Rote played out his option the next season and left.

After the disastrous finish in 1959, Wilson said "I don't doubt that I would have been fired if I hadn't been for Andy (General Manager Edwin J. Anderson)."

Sided With Anderson
In a 1961 stockholders' fight, Wilson sided with Anderson. He put his job on the line by sending a 90-word letter praising Anderson to 144 stockholders.

One of the stockholders was Ford, who purchased the Lions last January from the rest for $8 million. Anderson won the proxy fight and Wilson stayed.

Ford became Lions' president. Wilson's next battle was with NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

It came after all-pro defensive tackle Alex Karras was suspended for betting on games. Several other Lions and the club itself were fined.

Wilson stood up for his players. "As coach," he said, "I want to assure them that we support them 100 per cent both on and off the field."

It was one of the reasons he was known as a "player's coach."

But he was not soft on his highly impressed with Jack the three-pointers for the each after losing an exhibition Boston on a field blanketed with kicked 19 field goals in his second game in 1963. Another time, he knew, has indicated he will go on-style fashion on the way to chewed them out after a regular-season loss to New York in 1961.

Wilson was an outstanding from their midst for a high school football player in waiver prices. Chicago, later played at North.

3 Post-Season Bowl Contests Scheduled For Holiday Weekend

North-South Tilt Friday; Blue-Gray Game Saturday

BY MURRAY CHASS
Wayne Hardin and Ara Parseghian have their Heisman Trophy winning quarterbacks — Roger Staubach and John Huarte — for one more game.

But Hardin and the South have Bob Hayes and Jerry Rhome. That added duo could provide the difference Friday in the North-South all-star college football game at Miami, one of three post-season contests scheduled for this holiday weekend.

Georgia and Texas Tech clash in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Saturday while the Blue and the Gray all-star teams meet at Montgomery, Ala.

Hardin, who recently resigned as coach at Navy where he had Staubach for three years, is one of the coaches of the star-studded South squad.

Ranks of Obscurity
Parseghian, who helped pull Huarte from the ranks of obscurity to the Heisman Trophy, coaches the North along with Paul Dietz, of Army. Hardin's archival for three years.

Staubach, along with Tulsa's Rhome, will have an unusually speedy target in Hayes, the Florida A&M flash who is receiving his first crack at major competition.

The North spent 14 hours Wednesday on ways of stopping the double gold medalist. They complete some passes on us, but our main concern is to stop them from getting the long bomb," Parseghian said.

Dietzel and Parseghian hope to offset Hayes' potential with Herman Johnson of Michigan State, a defensive specialist who has range, speed and size needed to stop the South end.

Likes to Run
Georgia will have a problem of its own in the Sun Bowl. The Bulldogs must stop Donnie Anderson, third best rusher in the nation who also caught 32 passes for 396 yards. He ran for 998 yards, an average of 4.6 yards per carry.

Georgia has no one to match Anderson, but quarterback Preston Riddlehuber likes to run with the ball. In fact, he set a school record this season for yards gained rushing by a T formation signal-caller.

The Blue and Gray squads, meanwhile, finished up their workouts today with Blue Coach Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Gray Coach Paul Davis of Mississippi State both optimistic.

The big bowl weekend comes next week with the Rose, Cotton, Orange and Sugar Bowls set for Friday and the Gator Bowl and East-West game scheduled for Saturday.

Wilson Quits In Wake of Power Struggle

wasn't the same as before in Wilson's mind.

Ford said that no player had complained to him personally. He said some may have talked with other Lions officials. He asserted the firings of the assistants was not designed to force Wilson out.

Ford said he did not try to talk Wilson out of resigning. "His mind was pretty well made up," the owner said.

No Objections
Ford said he had no basic objection to Wilson's coaching methods but felt a "change in technique was necessary."

Ford declined to elaborate on the policy conflicts between him and Wilson.

He said he planned to "take my time" in looking for a new coach. "I have no preconceived notions," he said. "I'm looking for a winner — one that can bring me the championship."

Ford said no one had applied for the job. He termed "premature" reports that possible candidates for the job are former Bears' assistant Joe Stydahar, ex-Navy mentor Wayne Hardin, Lions' linebacker Joe Schmidt, former Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson and others.

Asked what kind of authority the new coach would have, Ford said: "He will coach."

More Authority
He added that Russ Thomas, former Lions' player who replaced Nussbaumer as player personnel director this season, would have more authority than the new coach.

Thomas would confer with the coach on trades, Ford said, but "the coach will just coach," he emphasized.

Ford said he, Anderson, Thomas and Bud Erickson, publicity director and assistant to Anderson, would make "all club policy decisions."

Asked about player trades, he said "obvious" trades may be made without waiting for a new coach to sign on but, as a matter of policy, he would like to include the new coach in such decisions.

Convicted of Murder

Man's Freedom Fight Alive After 20 Years

ANTIGO—Next Thursday, Dec. 31, will bring the next step in Ira Eastman's fight for release from a first degree murder conviction 20 years ago.

He took the witness stand here Wednesday, a short stolid figure in a new blue suit, and told about his last meeting with Selma Strauch. Even now he declared he loves her.

In 1944, at the age of 31, Eastman confessed that he had strangled the 15-year-old Laona girl because she pulled his hair, slapped his face and made him very mad.

Now, with two decades of a life sentence behind him, Eastman has been granted a new trial. He contended he was deprived of his constitutional rights when Forest County authorities hustled him off to Waupun State Prison in less than a day after he was captured.

Not Advised

Eastman said he was not properly advised that he could have a lawyer, even if he didn't have the money to pay.

Judge Thomas McDougal, presiding at preliminary hearing in Langlade County Court here Wednesday afternoon, said he will rule on the point of issue Dec. 31. The court session is scheduled for 9:30 a.m.

Prior to adjourning, Judge McDougal indicated he was inclined to amend the original warrant and complaint to the lesser charge of second degree murder. The penalty under second degree is imprisonment from five to 25 years, against a life term for first degree.

Thus, with 20 years already served, Eastman can hope the new court proceedings will bring him his freedom.

Former Waupaca Inspector, Dies

WAUPACA—Frank E. Clayton, 85, 912 Berlin St., the city's first building inspector, died Wednesday at Riverside Hospital after a brief illness.

Clayton was building inspector for eight years before his retirement May 1, 1962. Before coming to Waupaca, Clayton was employed in Milwaukee by the Wisconsin Telephone Co. for over 30 years. He served as the company's superintendent of garages for many years.

Clayton suffered a stroke Nov. 15 and had been hospitalized since that time. He is survived by his wife, four sons, one sister, 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Holly Funeral Home, at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. The Rev. Harold Reemtsma, First Baptist Church, will officiate.

Sewer Main Costs Termed Prohibitive

Hortonville Board Learns 10-Inch Line Is $97,000 Project

HORTONVILLE—Cost of placing a 10-inch sanitary sewer in S. Nash St. to eliminate a lift station for Black Otter Lake subdivision would be prohibitive, the village board was told Monday.

Iver Oerter, Glass and Donaldson, Waupaca, told the board the project would cost about $97,000, which he termed prohibitive.

Soil tests revealed water and soil conditions that would require steel sheeting, raising the cost. Oerter advised the village board that the developer of the Black Otter Lake subdivision, Mid-City Realty, proceed with the original plan and discharge sewage into the existing eight-inch sewer line on S. Nash St. and modify the proposed lift station.

Village Clerk J. K. Somers reported the 1964 tax roll will amount to $135,055.20. To meet tax requirements a rate of $42 per $1,000 assessed valuation will be charged.

State Credit

Relief will come from state credit which will total $10,029.02 or $5.56 per $1,000.

Treasurer Paul Kreul reported utility taxes totaling $5,706.28 were received from the state. Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. accounted for $3,713.25. Milwaukee Gas and Light Co. contributed $1,904.64 and gas pipelines were responsible for $88.45.

Building Permits

The board approved building permits for Jack Fulcer, W. Main Street, for a two-car garage, and Melvin Kringle, 235 N. Oak St., for a one-family dwelling.

The board requested Village Atty. K. W. Lathrop to contact the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. and call their attention to the condition of the stockyards in the village.

The board decided to inquire about having the power poles between the elementary and high school moved. The board will investigate having additional lighting installed and developing a park area near the pump house.

An Open Letter to

Dear Friends:

In this space, instead of writing to you, we would like to pause and thank you who have made our past year successful.

There are too many things to mention for the age that we live in, where we have been so far granted and forget the things that we have made possible. We have performed for them.

In commemoration of the year that has passed, we believe it behooves all of us to pause and thank you for the many blessings that you have given us. Certainly there has never been a year when anyone has enjoyed life so much as we have done so little toward them.

We have served you with the confidence you have given us. In the coming years you will be worthy of that trust as your best interest at heart.

and a Prosperous*

Expect More Surprises From Red Chinese

1967 Should See Industrialization Program Completed

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — Red China is the most populous country in the world today, yet probably is the least known. When the news came recently that Red China had exploded her first atomic bomb, people everywhere wondered how soon the Peiping regime would make more bombs and perhaps increase the threat to neighboring countries. But because few news correspondents have been permitted to enter the mainland of China, very little is known even about the essential facts of the country's growth and economic development — or how soon the terror of her bombs may be widened.

Prof. Chu-Yuan Cheng, who is research economist at the Center for Chinese Studies conducted by the University of Michigan, is recognized as a top authority on Communist China's internal affairs. In a copyrighted interview this week in "U.S. News & World Report," he answers a number of significant questions about what is going on in Red China — a country of more than 700 million people.

"China's economic condition," he said, "is very poor now and will not allow her to make ambitious moves. In fact, China is still on the brink of starvation. But, in the longer run, this could be a different story. . . . In about three years, things could start changing. By 1967, Red China will be a much more threatening power to her neighbors than she is now.

1967 Important Year
"First, she will start accumulating a nuclear stockpile at about that time — not only A-bombs, but we may start seeing the first Chinese rockets then. Secondly, 1967 will mark a target date that Mao Tse-Tung set, back in 1949, for the completion of China's industrialization program. I think 1967 could well be a turning-point year for Peiping, and it is a crucial year for the West to watch.

Prof. Cheng was asked how it was possible for him to know as much as he does about Red China, from which he fled in 1949 to escape the communists. He replied:

"Espionage is one way, and, of course, the U-2 planes were very effective in the case of the atom bomb. But that is not my area. In my field — research — we can get much information from their own official documents. In Communist China they now have about 200 technical periodicals published by various institutes in the Chinese Academy of Sciences and by various academic associations. We check these periodicals rather regularly and find good information occasionally. This is very difficult work, because sometimes it takes hundreds of documents to get just a few lines.

Trained in U.S.
"We have for three years conducted a research project investigating scientific and technical manpower in Communist China. We have studied thousands and thousands of periodicals, booklets and newspapers."

It is interesting to note that some of the people who are high up in the Communist Chinese government on the scientific side were originally trained in the United States and other western countries. What is surprising is that China is continuing to get from some of these countries important electronic and other special equipment needed for rocketry.

Mr. Cheng says that China's future depends on the growth of her national economy, her relations with Moscow and the West, and the unity of the Communist Party. He says that today Communist China is isolated and hostile to the three most populous countries in the world — Russia, India and the United States. To improve her position, he thinks China must change this situation and that, if in the near future Peiping cannot improve its relations with these big countries, it will have to continue to fight on three fronts. This will keep the whole country in great stress and strain.

Secret Agreement
Mr. Cheng says there is no question in his mind but that Soviet Russia started China on the way to the bomb and then abruptly withdrew. He says that Khrushchev in 1957 in a secret agreement promised to provide

Red China with a sample atomic bomb and the technical data concerning its manufacture. The details of the agreement didn't become known until 1963, when Communist China published the secret document as part of its denunciation of Khrushchev.

The Red Chinese keep telling their own people that the other countries of the world are hostile to them and that the making of A-bombs is absolutely essential and is to be given priority over agriculture and any other economic development. This, of course, represents an opening for the western world. For, despite all the inventive genius available in the west, nobody has perfected a simple means of communication which can get through to the people on the Chinese mainland and tell them of the extensive aid which some day could come to them if they overthrew the communist regime.

Entertainers Will Send Turkeys to Mississippi Needy

CHICAGO (AP) — Negro entertainers raised an estimated $70,000 Sunday night to airlift Christmas turkeys to Mississippi.

Sammy Davis Jr., Eartha Kitt and Dick Gregory performed before some 5,000 persons in Chicago's McCormick Place. Distribution of 20,000 turkeys is headed by Charles Evers, brother of slain integration leader Medgar Evers.

Evers said he hoped to have the turkeys delivered "to Ne-

No Flu Epidemics Are Expected This Winter

BY FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service predicts the nation will escape any big flu outbreak this winter.

There have been only a few local concentrations of Asian or other types of influenza so far this year. There probably would have been many more if a major epidemic were imminent, the service noted.

The agency again recommended vaccinations, especially for those in "high risk" groups — pregnant women, the elderly and those with heart trouble or other chronic diseases.

Local Outbreaks

In response to questions, health service officials said all signs indicate no widespread epidemic will hit the country, although there is always the possibility of localized outbreaks.

The present situation, they said, bears out forecasts made last summer by an advisory committee to the surgeon general.

In general, those forecasts were that the 1964-65 winter season shapes up as a comparatively light year on flu for two reasons:

1. As regards Asian, or type A-2 flu — the newest and most feared type in recent years — the nation suffered widespread outbreaks in 1962-1963; and the West Coast and parts of southern Minnesota were hit hard by the same virus last winter. The experts feel the betting averages are against another major outbreak so soon after those.

Epidemics Rare

2. As for influenza "type-B" — another major form — widespread epidemics are relatively rare anyway. The United States was hit by a tough one as recently as 1961-62.

The American Medical Association gives this advice regarding flu

"Exercise general health precautions. If the flu breaks out in your neighborhood, do not enter any place where crowds congregate. Dress warmly for extremely cold weather and keep your body in shape so you can resist a virus infection. Finally, if you do get sick, call your doctor at once."

7 Orphaned Girls Are Happy Now

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) —

"Hello, I'm Barbara."

The voice was that of Barbara Schaefer, 10, one of seven orphaned sisters.

How did she feel?

"Fine."

What did she want for Christmas?

"A game, Crazy Clocks."

The seven girls are happy and gay, excited about Christmas.

Eleanor, 12, the oldest, summed it up:

"There's a lot of anticipation for Christmas. Everyone is so excited. I want mostly clothes."

Linda, 11, wants clothes and a game, "or something like that."

Marie, 8, is wishing for a toy, Thimble City.

Janice, who was 7 Sunday, got a sewing set, color book and game for her birthday. For Christmas, her No. 1 choice is toy dishes.

Toy Dog

Pamela, 5, is hoping for a toy dog. The youngest, Georgette, 3, wants a real one.

"Let me say this," said the children's aunt, Liz Schaefer. "We're prepared for Christmas. I hope and pray it is a merry Christmas for them."

Liz — the kids call her Buff — added, "Write something happy they are and that's the way I and gay because that's the way I want people to see them."

Nasser Spurns U.S. Aid If It Tries to Rule Foreign Policy

Charges Ambassador Seeks To Apply Economic Pressure

BY ROY ESSOYAN
CAIRO (AP) — Relations between the United States and the United Arab Republic deteriorated further today in the wake of a speech by President Gamal daily consumption to keep our Abdel Nasser telling America in effect to take its aid and "go to hell."

Speaking in Port Said Wednesday, Nasser accused U.S. Ambassador Lucius Battle of trying to put economic pressure on Egypt and declared:

"Anyone who does not like our attitude can drink from the sea. And if the Mediterranean is not big enough, we will give him the Red Sea to drink, too."

To "drink from the sea" is the Egyptian slang equivalent of "go to the devil or 'go to hell.'" No official U.S. comment was available immediately in Washington. U.S. officials indicated, however, that a request by Nasser for $55 million worth of surplus food would be shelved because of his aid to the Congolese rebels.

Arms for Congo Rebels
Nasser's outburst apparently was touched off by U.S. accusations that he is aiding the Congolese rebels and intimations that U.S. aid would be curtailed because of this.

Speaking to a rally celebrating the end of the 1956 Israeli-British-French invasion of the Suez, Nasser declared:

"We have sent arms to the Congolese rebels and we will continue to send arms because the rebels need them and need the support of the honest nations of the world. The U.A.R. cannot watch aggression against the Congo and stand handcufted."

"We do not accept any words against us and we will cut off the tongue of anyone who uses them. We do not need their money."

Plane Shot Down
Relations between the United States and the U.A.R. worsened when a mob sacked the U.S. Information agency library in Cairo last month in protest against the American-Belgian mission in the Congo. Last week an American oil company's plane was shot down by the Egyptian air force as it was flying from Jordan to Libya, and the two crewmen were killed.

The United States has been supplying the U.A.R. about $140 million a year in food under a three-year agreement that expires next June 30. Nasser's government had asked for an additional $35 million worth for the coming year to ease a serious shortage.

Can't Dominate Policy
Nasser said Ambassador Battle, in a call on the U.A.R. minister of supplies Tuesday, "stayed only two minutes" and "said he could not possibly speak about (supplies) because the conduct of the Egyptians was not good."

"If the Americans want to

Johnson Will Ask Increase In Mail Rates

2nd and 3rd Classes Affected; Pay Raises Also Being Studied

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has decided to ask Congress for higher rates on second and third class mail and is now reported giving serious consideration to asking pay raises for civil service and postal workers.

The decision on pay increases for Uncle Sam's 2.46 million civilian workers is one of the policy questions still facing Johnson in the final stages of his work on the federal budget.

Budget Director Kermit Gordon said Wednesday that work on the budget was "over the hump." He steered clear of specific figures, but said the budget would be "very, very substantially below" the $106.5 billion originally asked by departments and agencies for the fiscal year which starts next July 1.

Modest Increase
One of Johnson's decisions Wednesday was to ask for the higher rates on second and third class mail. Second class mail includes newspapers and magazines, third class consists mainly of advertising matter.

In announcing the rate increase proposal at a news conference in Austin, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said the requested increase would be modest.

Gronouski said Johnson also would ask for legislation to require volume users of first class mail to sort letters by ZIP code before mailing. He said this also would be required of second and third class volume mailers, but legislation is unnecessary.

Gronouski said the Post Office Department plans to hire more employees to cut down excessive overtime and increase efficiency. He did not say how big the increase would be.

The postmaster general also said the closing down of the smallest post offices — fourth class — would be stepped up. In recent years these offices have been closed at the rate of 400 to 500 a year.

Gronouski said offices would be closed only in cases where equal or better services could be provided by rural or star routes.

Indonesia Guerrillas Killed in Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysian and Commonwealth forces early today killed three of the latest contingent of Indonesian guerrillas in the southwest coast of the Malay peninsula.

The government said the Indonesians were killed in a jungle clash about 150 miles south of the east of Kuala Lumpur. The government reported earlier that between 27 and 30 armed guerrillas landed near the Pontian region of Johore State. It was the fourth Indonesian raid on the Malaysian peninsula in the last five months.

Icy Roads Tie Up Traffic Through Valley Area

Despite the Nearly 2,000 Years separating the actual happening and today, the story of the Nativity at Bethlehem will live anew tonight. As a tangible reminder, many homes and churches have mounted life-size scenes depicting the event, such as this one at the George Reiland home in Mackville. Let the reproduction of this color photo by Post-Crescent photo department chief Andrew J. Mueller serve as the newspaper's heartfelt Christmas greetings to all of its readers along with a bright New Year wish.

All of Christian World Ready For Christmas Thousands Made Homeless By Floods in Western U. S.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians around the world prepared today to celebrate the joy of Christmas but in many areas troubled by controversy and fighting, joy remained only a hope.

Men were fighting and dying in the jungles of the Congo and Viet Nam in the Christmas of 1964. Viet most parts of the Christian world were at peace, however uneasy it might be.

"We must prepare ourselves well for Christmas, rekindling in our hearts the desire, the thirst, the anxiety for the living God and the blessed certainty of finding Christ, the God-made man," said Pope Paul VI in an audience at Vatican City.

Johnson's Message
From Washington, President Johnson sent "warmest Christmas greetings" to the 22,000 U.S. servicemen who are spending the holiday in Viet Nam fighting a war against communism.

"You are in Viet Nam, far from the places and people you love, because the forces that have given our nation strength and wealth have also placed upon it the burden of defending freedom — even in remote and

At Lease 28 Dead; Officials Can't Estimate Growing Loss

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — briefly Wednesday but another Thousands of victims in five low pressure system moved in flood-stricken Western states from the Pacific and the heavy were homeless on this Christmas Eve, and more joined in the exodus to escape new flooding as rain pounded the afflicted areas for the third consecutive day.

Soiled Christmas trees floated among the surging debris. The savage Pacific storm sent dozens of mountain rivers spilling into scores of cities and towns in California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Idaho.

28 Known Deaths
At least 28 persons have died and more than 5,000 left homeless. Damage has been so great that officials have stopped estimating.

Parts of every state have been declared disaster areas. Air Force, Navy, National Guard, Red Cross, Coast Guard, and Civil Defense units were working around the clock with local officials to rescue thousands stranded by high water, slides and snow.

Rain and winds slackened

3 Killed in Crash of Big Cargo Plane

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP) — A Flying Tiger four-engine Super Constellation cargo plane on takeoff slammed into fog-shrouded San Bruno Mountain today, killing the three crew members aboard and narrowly missing a Coast Guard radio station.

An airline spokesman said the 70-ton plane appeared to be in its proper takeoff path when it crashed and broke into bits.

scattered over a half-mile area. The airline said the victims were Capt. J. A. Richards, 49, of 657 Westlake Ave., Bay Head, N.J., the pilot; Daniel W. Hennessy, 33, of 1545 Wedgewood Drive, Hillsborough, Calif., co-pilot; and Paul M. Entz, 37, of 11251 Calvert St., North Hollywood, Calif.

Crashes On Ridge
The Federal Aviation Agency said the New York-bound transport took off from San Francisco International Airport at 12:29 a.m. and disappeared from radar scopes almost immediately. The plane crashed at the 1,000-foot level — 100 feet higher and the plane would have cleared the mountain — on Sweeney Ridge, about 10 miles south of San Francisco.

Coast Guard radioman Fred Goodwin said the plane passed within a few feet of a concrete transmitting building where six men were on duty, and crashed with an impact that shook the building. The plane broke in half then disintegrated, some 4,000 tons of cargo scattering over a half-mile area.

52 Americans Are Injured in Saigon Bomb Explosion

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bomb, presumably planted by the Viet Cong, blasted a U.S. military officers' hotel in Saigon today, injuring 52 Americans, the Pentagon was advised today.

The first report said there were no dead.

The building is in the heart of the city, near the Caravelle Hotel. The Pentagon said initial reports sent here showed that in addition to the 52 Americans injured one Australian officer and 15 Vietnamese were hurt.

Expected To Continue Christmas

Cold, icy, wet weather paralyzing travel to many parts of the nation and hampering road travel in the Fox Valley area and over much of the state is predicted to continue through Christmas day.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Austin Straubel Field in Green Bay today predicted occasional snow flurries with slowly falling temperatures this evening and Christmas day. Readings are to drop to 12 overnight and return to only the 20 mark Christmas day.

The bureau said a major front of undetermined effect is forming over the central part of the nation that could bring a heavier-than-expected snowfall to all of Wisconsin.

Road conditions over much of the state were reported hazardous today. Inspector Merlin Ross of the State Motor Vehicle Department said highways were slippery with poor visibility due to fog over almost all the state.

Airlines Operating
Best conditions were reported in western Wisconsin, where roads were slippery only in scattered places. Much of the northern part of the state awoke today to a new four-inch snow cover, with roads in very slippery condition. All of eastern Minnesota and all of Illinois reported hazardous driving conditions today.

Greyhound Bus Lines reported all buses running on time this morning, but expected a combination of heavy passenger loads and poor road conditions to set schedules back 30 minutes to an hour by this afternoon or evening.

North Central Airlines flights cancelled Wednesday leaving the Appleton, Oshkosh and Green Bay airports were back in operation today, but some flights coming into those ports from O'Hare Airport in Chicago and General Mitchell Field in Milwaukee were being cancelled.

Trouble in West
The airline said both the Milwaukee and Chicago fields were cancelling several flights due to bad weather conditions there and at ports of destination, however, the cancelled flights were not determined. Flights from Grand Rapids, Mich., also were being cancelled.

Chicago and North Western Railway trains all were running on time, but a railroad representative said heavy passenger loads and poor weather possibly would set schedules back by this afternoon or evening.

Commercial transportation services were having the most difficulty arranging trips to areas of the West Coast, where floods and heavy snow have forced the cancellation of most planes and buses, and some trains have been stranded by snow between stops.

Girl, 16, Killed by Grenade at Party

ADEN (AP) — A grenade hurled into the Christmas party of a group of British teen-agers Wednesday killed the daughter of a Royal Air Force officer and wounded four other persons at the RAF station in Khormaskar.

The dead girl was Gillian Sidney, 16, daughter of Air Commodore E. S. Sidney. She had arrived in the British-protected Federation of South Arabia only Wednesday to be with her parents for Christmas.

The Indian Express said 500 were feared drowned on the tiny island of Rameswaram, between India and Ceylon. The storm washed out the rail link between the island and the Indian mainland and smashed hundreds of grass huts.

A radio message from the island, off the southeast coast of India, said the number of dead had not been determined and asked for an immediate airdrop of food and other emergency supplies.

Complicated Brain Surgery Brings Girl, 3, Back From Brink of Death

BY ROY A. WHITCOMB Jr.
SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — To Mr. and Mrs. Roland C. Martin there will never be another Christmas as joyous as this one.

Today their daughter Laurie, 3, is coming home after spending five months in a Boston hospital on the brink of death.

Prolonged Ordeal
Since July Laurie has been at the Burnham Building, Massachusetts General Hospital, zone. Her eyes were open, but grapefruit, one doctor said, and where she underwent a complicated operation to remove a benign cyst from a ventricle deep in her brain.

From the day of the operation — July 21 — until Nov. 1, she lay in a half life in which she could survive only through special feeding techniques but did not recognize her parents or her doctors and nurses.

Both parents spent every possible day at her bedside during those soul-wracking months. Dr. Robert J. Ojemann, a local pediatrician, her Boston say me down to sleep. I pray doctors feel her recovery will be the Lord my soul to keep. . . . To hear Laurie repeat these words now brings a rush of warmth to her parents' hearts.

Andrea Nash, pediatric neurologist at Massachusetts General, said Laurie's loss of faculties gradually disappeared as time healed the wounds in her brain. As this is done X-rays get a clearer picture of the various sections of the brain.

It was with these pictures that the benign tumor was discovered. It looked as large as a grapefruit, one doctor said, and in was the largest ever found in a child of Laurie's age.

Then on Nov. 1 — her mother Laurie's loss of faculties gradually disappeared as time healed the wounds in her brain. As this is done X-rays get a clearer picture of the various sections of the brain.

And as the days of November and early December passed, day after day.

The first report said there were no dead. The building is in the heart of the city, near the Caravelle Hotel. The Pentagon said initial reports sent here showed that in addition to the 52 Americans injured one Australian officer and 15 Vietnamese were hurt.

Tot Having Two Christmases

BY JOHN SAWALL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA — Little Norma Kendall has an advantage over most Waupaca children this year. On Christmas day, five-year-old Norma will be celebrating her second Christmas of the year.

The adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kendall, Norma is a native of Aruba, an island off the coast of Venezuela. In her native home, Norma and other children of the island celebrate the coming of St. Nicholas Dec. 6.

Mrs. Kendall is the former Joanne Murray. The couple along with Norma are visiting at the home of Mrs. Kendall's mother, Mrs. Edna Murray, 420 North St., Waupaca.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall have spent the past five years in Aruba where Kendall was a radio engineer for the Evangelical Alliance Mission, a missionary radio station broadcasting messages to an area 1,000 miles around the small island.

Adoption Underway

Norma has been with the couple since she was eight months old. Adoption proceedings still are underway before Norma could be brought to the United States, she and her family had to spend a week in Puerto Rico, a U.S. possession so Norma could obtain a passport.

After their stay in Puerto Rico the Kendalls returned to Aruba where they then received permission to bring Norma into the U.S.

Aruba, a possession of the Netherlands, retains Dutch customs. On St. Nicholas Day gifts are exchanged, and each child puts out a wooden shoe Mrs. Kendall said Dec. 25 is a religious holiday.

Although the couple left Aruba Nov. 22 and were back in the United States on St.

Nicholas day, Norma still put out her wooden shoe and found it laden with gifts in the morning. Now she is planning to hang her stocking so Santa can leave more gifts.

No 'Black Pete'

One of the things Norma doesn't have to worry about here is "Black Pete," Naughty boys and girls of the United States get a stick in their stocking from Santa. Out in Aruba, "Black Pete" roams the streets and carries the naughty children off in a bag on St. Nicholas day.

From Waupaca the family plans to visit Kendall's home state, Washington. Following their visits in the United States, the couple's plans are still indefinite, but the family may return to Trinidad, an island in the West Indies, where Kendall will continue his radio work. While in Aruba the couple made several visits to Trinidad.

Hortonville Girl Has Brain Tumor

Greetings, Gifts From Public Make Yule Merrier for Hospitalized Lass

BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent Woman's Editor

Kathy Moeller's Christmas will be considerably happier this year than last. As the holidays approached in 1963, Kathy celebrated her 13th birthday, faced with blindness and possible death from a brain tumor. For her Dec. 19 birthday, she requested a doll. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Moeller, route 2, Hortonville, hoped people would send their daughter birthday and Christmas cards to boost her sagging spirits.

The Post-Crescent story was picked up by several area radio announcers, and Kathy was deluged with mail -- urging her to get well and have a merry holiday. She received as many as one little girl could ever want -- and she received friendship through honorary membership in a Richmond School troop of Junior Girl Scouts.

This year Kathy spent 11 months in hospitals. Her vision is gone and her coordination is impaired. She's had surgery several times and last summer broke a leg, necessitating several months in a cast. Through it all she's kept smiling.

Send Letters, Cards

All the months she was in a Madison hospital members of Troop 335 sent letters and cards, telling her what they were doing and urging her to come home well.

Saturday was her birthday, her 14th. As they did a year ago, 29 girls and 3 leaders made the trip to Kathy's farm home, carrying a cake decorated with pink roses and candles and a Pat Boone album of religious songs. They also took their own gay laughter and their best singing voices, and had her clapping along and stamping her feet as she learned the Girl Scout songs that an honorary member should know. They agreed she looked fine and it was difficult to believe her sparkling brown eyes were unseen. She sang two or three verses of "Silent Night" alone for her guests.

Although Kathy can't see, she's learning to use her hands and develop her sense of touch. She's learned to lace leather by feels, and the Scouts wove a basket and took along the equipment so she could learn to do the craft herself.

Crafts Not Enough

Mrs. Moeller feels that crafts realize how good people are, are not enough to keep a 14-year-old mind busy. She hopes that the Welfare Department will find the funds to pay a Kathy teacher to come in and help doesn't know who gets the most quality for funds to learn contact, of Kathy herself.

Braille at home until she is an adult. Mrs. Moeller doesn't like every good relationship, it probably events up all around.

Civil Defense Sirens Will Not Be Operated

Bear Creek, Seymour, New London Taken Off Regular System

Civil Defense sirens in the Bear Creek, New London and Seymour communities today officially were disconnected and will not be operated under the present system, Civil Defense Director Lee Penney said today.

Penney said technical problems of the system in lines operating the sirens in the three communities brought about the decision to temporarily remove a siren alarm system from the communities.

Similar incidents in Bear Creek residents were forced from their beds shortly after 11 p.m. today by the siren which had been turned off by a car crashing into a telephone pole in the area. The siren had to be disconnected immediately by a civil defense director.

Several similar incidents in the communities of New London and Seymour have been reported in recent weeks, Penney said.

The wire siren system will be replaced by a radio controlled system which would not be affected by automatic civil defense sirens.

Penney said the system has been under study on a county wide basis and will be discussed at a January meeting of the Civil Defense committee.

Penney said there was no definite date determined when the radio control system will be put into operation.

Family to Have a Bit Brighter Yule In Spite of Fire

KAUKAUNA — Christmas for the Glen Meyerhofer family which lost its home and all furnishings in a fire Monday will be a little brighter as a result of contributions from many people.

A total of $721.50 has been collected for the family and contributions of clothing, toys, food and furnishings including five beds have been received.

The seven Meyerhofer children each received a pair of shoes from a local merchant. James Geritz, welfare officer, reports contributions are still coming in from all communities in the area.

Cat in Hot Tin Pipe Rescued

A cat in a hot tin pipe caused firemen from their early morning chores Wednesday in Appleton.

Firemen were called to the Wilmer J. Wagner home, 1703 W. Summer St. about 9 a.m. when Wagner reported the family cat loose in the furnace pipes. Firemen said the cat had been rescued by the time they arrived.

A piece of burned meat brought firemen to the Earl Heinritz home, 2115 N. Harrison St., about 4:22 p.m. Tuesday. The meat had been carried from the home by a neighbor and firemen used a smoke ejector to rid the home of smoke.

As the wise men came to find the holy child, may joy and happiness come to you at christmastime

Most English Have a Quiet Christmas Day

Oliver Cromwell And His Puritans Banned Christmas

BY GRANVILLE J. WATTS

LONDON (AP) — Oliver Cromwell and his Puritans decided people were having too good a time. They actually banned Christmas in June 1647.

England's Christmas came back with Charles II, the merry monarch, but it was a quieter business — and still is.

Yet some Britons still go plain crazy over Christmas.

Every Christmas Day, ice permitting, swimmers plunge into the Serpentine Lake in London's Hyde Park for a 100-yard race.

The winner gets the Peter Pan Cup.

Christmas Dip

Down in Folkestone, another bunch of intrepid swimmers dive into the sea for a traditional Christmas dip.

Then, bristling with goosepimples, they dash up the beach for a jolly cup of hot punch around a bonfire.

The rest of Britain is mostly indoors, happily attacking mountains of food and oceans of grog.

Apart from the swimmers and a few carol singers, most Britons stay home for the two-day holiday.

In London, for instance, the red double-decker buses begin leaving the streets at 2:30 p.m. Christmas Day. By 4 p.m. they are all in garages. Only a limited subway service is operated. A few stranded travelers search in vain for taxis. Pubs are closed.

Eerie Silence

The silence is eerie.

High spot for Britons is lunchtime Christmas Day.

Traditional fare is turkey or chicken followed by Christmas pudding.

Whisky, sherry, beer and wine flow freely in many homes.

At teatime, if they can still face it, most Britons munch heavy fruit cake.

For supper they try to polish off what's left of the turkey.

The day after Christmas — Boxing Day — is normally spent recovering. Shops still are closed, but it's a traditional day for football and other sports matches — and the pubs are open again.

A lot of the old customs have died out in Britain, but in South Wales a man dressed up as a gray mare runs through the streets on Christmas Day. The man, called the Mari Llwyd — pronounced Marie Lloyd — goes around with his retinue and sings a request for entry to a house.

Hard Stuff

The occupiers reply in song and the Mari Llwyd and his boys drop in for a nip of the hard stuff.

A custom like this goes back to the lusty days when lords and barons threw open their castles to the serfs for merrymaking on a mammoth scale.

A typical open day was held in Cawood Castle in Yorkshire in 1566.

According to records the guests consumed 100 oxen, 300 calves, 300 pigs and 1,000 sheep.

A Christmas pie of the period contained four geese, two turkeys, two rabbits, four wild ducks, six pigeons, seven blackbirds, four partridges, two curlews, six snipe and two woodcock.

3,000 Pounds

Britain's biggest Christmas pudding on record was a 3,000-pound effort. It took eight horses to pull the thing to the village green near Paignton, Devon, and three days to cook.

Cromwell put a stop to all that.

A few days before Christmas 1647 he ordered town criers throughout England to remind the people of his new law banning Christmas festivities.

The reaction was immediate. The people rioted.

Cromwell, however, kept the ban going until his death in 1658.

Charles II brought the celebration back, but Christmas was never quite the same after Cromwell.

Enlisted Men Volunteer

Army Assigns Officers To New Special Forces

BY BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Army now assigns officers in a "nin-volunteer" basis to the highly dangerous work of guerrilla Special Forces, proud wearers of the green beret. All enlisted men within the Special Forces still are volunteers, however.

The Army said officially that younger officers in the assignment of non-volunteer officers was "a matter of policy. This policy has been in effect for a number of years and is followed to provide Special Forces training and experience for a larger group of officers within the Army."

This policy has never been publicized.

Another source said the younger officers in the assignment of non-volunteer cause "too many have been plus parachute training. reading the casualty lists of Special Forces in Viet Nam."

As late as 1960 the men in Special Forces were all volunteers. The Special Forces mission, either behind enemy lines or in counter-guerrilla activities, was considered above and beyond the ordinary call of duty.

This apparently still applies to enlisted personnel.

"Enlisted personnel in operational detachments are volunteers," the Army said. "There has been no difficulty in obtaining volunteers for such assignments."

All Army officers are now required to take either ranger or commando-type training — or airborne training, which is rang-

Special Forces training includes airborne, ranger, guerrilla and counter-guerrilla training plus special courses in working with what the Army calls indigenous personnel.

The Army spokesman said assignment to Special Forces is considered essential to the professional development of officers.

This means that the man who turns down Special Forces work may jeopardize his professional career as a regular officer. Certainly it would have a bearing on selection for promotion.

Those in Special Forces now number close to 7,000 although the official strength figure is 5,000.

When it was an all-volunteer outfit, Special Forces forces probably numbered no more than 1,800.

Special Forces

There are specialists wearing the green beret who are not and have not been volunteers. They are known as special action groups as communications experts, medics, engineers, psychological operations and civil affairs experts.

At last report, this special action force numbered about 1,300 men.

The upsurge in Special Forces strength began Feb. 18, 1961, when President John F. Kennedy ordered a 500-man increase in the unconventional warfare

Special Forces forces.

Originally, the Special Forces were designed to operate in 10-man teams behind enemy lines to organize and train dissident groups into irregular fighting forces to carry out sabotage and conduct hit-run attacks.

In January 1961, the Special Forces mission was enlarged to embrace counter-guerrilla activities. This enlargement was a direct result of Communist Viet Cong operations in South Viet Nam.

By September 1962, the Special Forces had been enlarged three times and, apparently, its required officer strength could no longer be met on a volunteer basis.

The Good Tidings of Great Joy

There is concern every Christmas season that the true meaning of the Christian holy day is lost and forgotten in the frantic haste of buying, decorating, cards and parties. Has man taken something that was pure and lovely and turned it into a cheap bauble with his neon lights and tinsel?

Perhaps there is an answer to the question in the rebuke Christ gave to the multitudes who were disappointed in the prophet. John, sent, the Bible tells us, to prepare the way for Christ.

"What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses. But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet. For this is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send My messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee."

Christmas is and always will be different things to different people. It is a time of family reunion and love. A time to give, of gifts and time and concern. A time for entertainment and joy. It is an individual holiday, each according to the message and understanding he finds in his own heart. And to those who are disappointed or disillusioned, who do not comprehend the light that shineth in the darkness, what came they for to see?

In the sudden hush of stars and snow on Christmas Eve, those who seek peace and understanding, beauty and compassion and love, find them each year in their own hearts. We can share the hope and prayer that someday the song the angels sang can be in all hearts for all time.

Is Thailand Next?

Advocates of continued United States assistance to Laos and Viet Nam, including our troops and advisors, have warned that loss of these countries to the Communists would foreshadow the loss of all of Southeast Asia. Currently there are signs and sounds that indicate that the Reds indeed are looking ahead and planning a heavy propaganda war in Thailand. Such emphasis usually precedes infiltration and direct attack.

Thailand has been staunchly pro-Western. Its former government turned out to be graft ridden but this is hardly unusual in Asia. However, the former premier's fortunes made good reading for Communists who built up the events especially for poor peasants in the north. The new government of Thanom Kittikachorn has stepped up relief and welfare programs to help control any swing to the Communist cause among the jungle peasants.

But, according to broadcasts from the Red Pathet Lao, there is an "independent movement" in Thailand, aimed at waging 'a struggle against the United States aggression, and to make Thailand a genuinely neutral nation, to overthrow the reactionary government . . . and replace it with a progressive and democratic government."

This has a discouragingly familiar ring and is an echo of charges made against practically every government, autocratic or not, which the Reds have felt they had a chance of ousting. The Thais have been arresting a number of people and charging them with pro-Communist sympathies. The premier has promised national elections for late next year and the Reds are obviously hoping they will have built up a backlog of sympathy and be able to profit by any local confusion.

Meanwhile, the United States is financing the building of a road in a thin strip of land controlled by the Laotian government between the Pathet Lao areas and the Mekong River which forms a border between Laos and Thailand. Pathet Lao troops periodically show strength by running off the road crews but appear to be as enthused about the road as are the pro-Western factions. After all, one aim of the road is to provide "unity" between northern and southern Laos and the Reds are as much in favor of unity as anyone else. Undoubtedly they consider the road a fine avenue for future attacks into Thailand as well as Laos.

While another neighbor, Cambodia, is openly wooing the Red Chinese, the Thais have firmly stood with the West. But if Viet Nam falls and Laos continues its drift into neutralism which can only help the Communists, disillusioned Thais may consider survival more important than ties to the United States, so far impotent to halt Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

There seems to be no obvious solution for the problems in this area. But almost all the signs at present are discouraging.

Solicitors and Barristers

When Bronson C. LaFollette, the Democratic attorney general-elect of Wisconsin, presented his departmental budget requests at a public hearing in Madison recently he explained that he wanted more lawyers on the already sizable staff of the state legal department.

He wants them, he said, to eliminate the costly practice of hiring private counsel on special contract to handle some of the state's law work, which is a laudable objective since almost everybody is aware that the special counsel game in Madison is one that has been used primarily as job patronage.

The attorney general-elect also explained that he proposes to get rid of the lawyers now on the payrolls of an increasing number of the state institutions and service agencies, and to centralize legal counselling in the attorney general's office where it ought to be.

This is another admirable objective. Gov-Elect Knowles, himself a lawyer with considerable experience in state government, appeared to agree with Mr. LaFollette that the state's legal services should be run from a central office in the interest of efficient use of manpower and consistency in the preparation of cases.

Yet we are not as sanguine about the achievement of these ends as is the young man who has begun what is a promising political career by winning high office at the age of 28 by a convincing margin of votes. These propositions have been heard in the capitol at budget time often before. Rarely has anything been done to realize them. The inertia in the system is so powerful as to discourage most men who see the logic in such proposals.

The state services have developed, quite without public knowledge or even explicit legislative approval, a division of legal labor that strangely resembles the English system of solicitors and barristers. The solicitor advises. The barrister tries cases. It is even so in some of the state agencies, which keep on their payrolls a trained lawyer for internal counselling purposes, but who when they are required to start actions must go to the attorney general's office and get a new lawyer to argue their matters in court. It is an absurd dispersion of men and money on its face, and if Mr. LaFollette wants to make an attempt to improve it, we can only applaud.

Looking Backward

Christmas Gift From Gen. Sherman

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Dec. 29, 1864.

General Sherman sent President Lincoln a most valuable Christmas present for the Union, in the shape of the capture of the city of Savannah, with 20,000 of its citizens.

On the morning of the 21st, gen. Sherman occupied the city, capturing 150 large guns, 13 locomotives, 190 cars, 33,000 bales of cotton, 3 steamers, 800 prisoners, and large amounts of ammunition.

On the day previous, Hardee, with most of the garrison, crossed the Savannah River to the Union causeway and escaped. The rebel iron-clads were blown up by Hardee. The torpedoes in the channel had been removed or passed over, and communication with the city was opened by General Foster.

The cotton captured is valued in round numbers at $16 million. At least it was worth that Saturday. It will not bring quite so much to-day.

This glorious news sent a thrill of joy to the hearts of the loyal people, and fitted them for full enjoyment of the holidays. The victory is all the more gratifying because it is almost bloodless.

More Neighborhood Rinks Are Needed for Younger Children

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Our entire family strongly disagrees with Mr. Grover and Mr. Jones of the Park Department regarding the locations, number and size of the Appleton skating rinks (Post-Crescent, Dec. 8 and 9). Of course, if the rinks are maintained for the convenience of the Park Department no argument can be made for the retention of neighborhood rinks. But shouldn't we base the location of the rinks on the needs of the children?

During our four and a half years in Appleton we have used four of the city's rinks—Packard St., Erb Park, Mead and Jones. Of these, the children enjoyed Packard St. by far the most because it was close to home, they could skate every day after school without requiring transportation and they were rarely run down on the ice by older children.

On the few occasions we have used Jones Park they have been frequently bowled over by racing teenagers who offer neither apologies nor aid when they hurt a child. On one occasion at Jones Park I saw five very small children knocked down in quick succession by two racers who continued on, presumably unaware. Let's face it, Jones Park is for skaters, not learners. No small child just learning to skate enjoys this type of skating rink but the small neighborhood rink is ideal for learning purposes and does not appeal to teenagers.

We now live in an area about seven blocks from Erb Park rink (our closest). The children (and my husband) love to skate there but unfortunately can only do so either in relatively mild weather when the ice is usually poor, or on the infrequent occasions when I have transportation available to drive them there. This does not mean it is too far to walk, they walk farther than this four times a day, to and from school. But after one hour of skating in below zero temperature their feet and fingers are always numb and sitting on the ice to change from skates to shoes and boots leaves them virtually frozen before they start the seven block walk home. Our solution to this has been to try to maintain a rink in our large back yard for our own after school use, with occasional trips to the larger rink. As official rink funder I don't find this the most convenient solution, especially since our rink is in full sun and is quickly ruined by a few days' mid temperature and sunshine. And it's a cold, cold job. Also, it is not big enough for any really satisfying skating.

Although teenagers often have transportation, small children do not. It should not be necessary for parents to chauffeur their children to and fro so that they can have 15-30 minutes skating after school. This would be essential if you have only four or five large rinks and would probably lead to a decrease in younger children learning to skate. Unless children can skate frequently they won't be any good at it and poor skaters don't enjoy skating.

Appleton bus service would be entirely inadequate as an alternative to individual chauffeuring because of sparse routes, no evening or Sunday service and too high fares.

It is well known that 99 per cent of professional hockey players and a large proportion of professional figure skaters come from Canada. Contrary to popular belief, Canada is not frozen eleven months a year—winter's duration is almost the same there as here. The children learn to skate almost as soon as they can walk because of the availability of neighborhood rinks. In Winnipeg and Fort William the city maintains lighted rinks with heated warming shacks and strict hours for hockey practice. These rinks are located on vacant lots throughout the residential areas and are full of small children during the day and teenagers during the evening.

The city of Fort William was always ready to flood a vacant lot upon request and keep it flooded throughout the winter. However, the neighborhood children helped keep the rinks scraped and swept, that was part of the fun. I have noticed here that children delight in wrecking the ice before it is thoroughly frozen by bashing holes all over it and it does not seem to occur to many of them to help maintain it. On weekends children from adjacent homes would occasionally scrape the Packard rink but this is rare.

Regarding shelter, a small shed for changing skates out of the wind would be adequate at neighborhood rinks since these are rarely used for extending skating.

Perhaps there are some public spirited teenagers living near the smaller rinks who would be interested in supervising the young children at these rinks say from 4 to 5:30 for a little pocket money from the Park Department.

We need more rinks, not fewer. Here's hoping the next one will be somewhere between Erb and Huntley.

Wisconsin Report

Broadening of State Selective Sales Tax Touchy Political Issue

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—The most doubtful section of the advisory report filed by a businessman's task force for the guidance of the new Republican state administration deals with the delicate topic of sales taxation.

Careful examination tempts

a reader to wonder whether it was not a hastily written footnote, incorporated at the last moment without much reflection on the possibilities of misinterpretation, and with naivete or ignorance of the realities of Wisconsin politics in these times.

The Republican governor who will take office next month will do so by one of the thinnest electoral margins in history, having barely squeaked through last month over a rival who had steadily badgered him with the accusation that he has stood for the taxation of the food and clothing of the poor and underprivileged.

Now one of his advisory groups turns up with a report which can be read, by those who want to do so, as vindicating precisely that charge.

THE PROPOSAL

Here is what the committee said about the sales tax:

"The selective sales tax currently produces revenues of about $80 million annually. It should be continued, with exemptions for food, drugs and clothing. A study should be undertaken to ascertain the revenue loss from transients and tourist trade as a consequence of the exemptions on basic commodities and, if it constitutes a substantial sum, the exemptions should be eliminated and an income tax credit for residents adopted. In this way non-residents will be required to participate in the cost of good government which benefits them while in Wisconsin, just as Wisconsin residents contribute while traveling in other states."

The reasoning of the report authors is not difficult to deduce. There is a grand illusion that the tourist trade represents a huge potential sales tax harvest that is untapped. The actuality is that there isn't much to be had there, because the selective taxes now levied are imposed upon most of the tourist revenue base already.

Whether it is worthwhile to attempt to levy more taxes on tourists may be debatable on its merits. But to impose the across-the-board general sales tax with the income tax credit scheme for residents as the price of such a tourist tax is clearly impracticable in a political sense, as recent events have persuaded most practical politicians.

CLOUDY

The income tax credit scheme within the general sales tax has been explained ad infinitum in the public forums of Wisconsin for three years, but there remains a vast popular ignorance of its meaning.

Essentially it means that the sales tax would apply to everything, including dad's shirt and baby's milk, but that such levies on essentials would be returned at the end of the year in the form of an income tax credit or refund. It was because Republicans had toyed with such a plan in the legislature while Warren Knowles was lieutenant governor, and he was occasionally called upon to vote to resolve ties in the Senate, that Gov. Reynolds and others were able to accuse him of voting to tax infant's diapers and the Republicans found it so difficult to frame convincing replies.

There is a virtual certainty that the sales tax base of the state will be expanded under the brute force of appropriations pressure—and probably personal income tax rates as well.

But in the inevitably fluid world of politics, one fact stands out with compelling clarity:

The politicians are few who will stand up and be counted in favor of sales taxation on subsistence expenditures of their constituents.

Are We All Prepared For a Second Coming?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

If there should be, on Christmas night, a second coming—would there not be soon a second crucifixion? And this time, not by the Romans or the Jews, but by him because he eats and drinks with publicans and sinners, perfering the company of winebibbers and harlots to that of "respectable" church members?

Would not the sensual among us scorn him because he fasts for forty days in the desert, neglecting the needs of the body?

Would not the proud and important among us laugh at him when he instruct the twelve disciples that he who would be "first" should be the one to take the role of the least and serve all?

Would not the worldly-wise and educated among us be aghast to hear that we cannot be saved except we become as children, and that a little child shall lead us?

Would not each of us—in his own way—find some part of this man's saying and doing to be so threatening to our ways of life, so much at odds with our rooted beliefs, that we could not tolerate him for long?

I wonder. I wonder if we are any more prepared for the second coming than we would have been for the first.

Freedman Should Get Pravda Job

Editor, Post-Crescent:

After reading Max Freedman's column in the Dec. 20 Post-Crescent, advising the Republican party how to run its affairs, may I suggest to your favorite columnist that since Khrushchev's relatives lost their jobs to apply for a job on Pravda. I am sure they would welcome his philosophy. He has about as much interest in the Republican party welfare as I have in Max.

Cancer Must be Found During Early Stages

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I wish you could answer my problem soon, as I am worrying a great deal.

After an operation for cancer and a follow-up test which was negative, can one consider himself cured? How often should a test be made? And is it possible for cancer to spread to another area without being known? — MRS. A. N.

Molner

From the little you tell me, I would say that you are worrying needlessly. Perhaps the follow-up explanation will help you.

they are big enough to create symptoms: lumps, painless sores, bleeding, etc.

Eventually, if allowed to keep growing, a cancer will reach an invasive stage, meaning that it spreads into adjoining tissue.

And finally some of the cells break loose and begin to range through the body indiscriminately. Sometimes these cells are disposed of by the body without doing damage. But some of them may lodge in another organ and a new cancer begins to grow. This process of moving to another ger, segments of healthy tissue are removed from all sides of the original cancer.

Once the process of metastasis—or indiscriminate spreading—has begun, it may be too late. Some of the wandering cells can be expected to start new cancers in one place or another.

Now let's apply this to your case. You had surgery, a follow-up study, and no sign of cancer was found. You do not say how long ago this took place, nor where the original cancer was.

Therefore, your best course is to consult your surgeon. For statistical purposes, a patient is "cured" if there is no sign of the disease after five years. Many, many thousands have been cured of cancer and have passed this "five-year requirement." But actually, of course, it didn't take five years to cure them. They were cured as soon as the operation was over. The five-year wait is just a means of being statistically positive that the whole cancer was removed and that no metastasis had gone unrecognized.

Yes, I think you can consider yourself cured, but the disease is so dangerous that every reasonable precaution should be taken. Have a checkup as long as your doctor indicates that you should do so.

Let your friends' advice go in one ear and out of the other. They are misinformed. The tea-claim that caffeine-free coffee is just as hard on the nerves as the ordinary type. Is this true? — J. E.

Civil Defense Sirens Will Not Be Operated

Bear Creek, Seymour, New London Taken Off Regular System

Civil Defense sirens in the Bear Creek, New London and Seymour communities today officially were disconnected and will not be operated under the present system. Civil Defense Director Lee Penney said today. Penney said technical problems of the system in lines operating the sirens in the three communities brought about the decision to temporarily remove a siren alarm system from the communities.

Similar Incidents

Bear Creek residents were roused from their beds shortly after 7 a.m. today by the siren which had been touched off by a car crashing into a telephone pole in the area. The siren had to be disconnected manually by James Rebinan, Bear Creek civil defense director.

Several similar incidents in the communities of New London and Seymour have been reported in recent weeks, Penney said.

The wire siren system will be replaced by a radio-controlled system which would not be affected by automobile crashes, Penney said. The system has been under study on a county-wide basis for sometime and will be discussed at a January meeting of the Civil Defense committee.

Penney said there was no definite date determined when the radio-control system will be put into operation.

Construction of a $300,000 parish activity center will be the best layout for the kitchen, started next spring by St. Therese Catholic Parish. The building is expected to be completed by the beginning of the next school year. It will face Wisconsin Avenue and have a common entrance with the parish school. The parish board of trustees has approved final plans for the center as presented by the building committee and George Narovec, architect. Working drawings are being prepared. The project will be bid in February, and construction will start in March. Total costs are estimated at $300,000. The new center will be at the north end of the St. Therese property and to the east of the school. It will be about 20 feet east of the school building, with a common entrance planned to serve both buildings, and will extend across N Durkee Street. The parish obtained permission to close one block of Durkee in order to proceed with the construction.

Will Serve 500

The two-story activity center will house a dining room and kitchen area capable of serving 500 persons, a stage for school activities, two meeting rooms and a large cloak room on the ground floor, and a complete gymnasium with locker and shower room facilities, tucked under the second floor. The 74-by-120 foot building will be constructed of brick and stone to match the existing school building architecture. Aluminum doors and windows will add a modern touch. A special committee is working with a kitchen designer

Water Officials Okay Wage Hikes For 15 Employees

An estimated 15 members of the Appleton Water Department staff were recently granted pay raises retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964. The water commission voted the foreman and assistant foreman an increase of six cents per hour, and 15 meter and maintenance employees four cents per hour. A water department spokesman said the cost of the increases for this year would be $1,275. About a month ago the water commission reached agreement on a 1964 contract with its employees that hold membership in the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. For 1965, the commission has approved an increase of four cents per hour for the distribution foreman, inspector, maintenance man and meter repair man; and two cents for the rest of the maintenance crew, meter readers and repairmen.

Writer With Annual Card List Asks Who Sent Him Greetings Last Year

BY ED VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
It's that time of the year again when I begin checking through a huge stack of Christmas cards to compare those received with those sent in an effort to determine if anyone was missed. Of all projects at Christmas, including shopping, this probably proves to be the most annoying. Each year the list seems to become longer, despite constant efforts to keep it to a minimum. If I don't that I am against sending Christmas cards or dislike receiving them, it's just that writing them out and keeping an inventory is time-consuming and difficult. This year, for some unexplained reason, I became ambitious one night early in November and wrote out all our Christmas cards. This in itself is no mean endeavor, and, as usual, I didn't know what had become of last year's list. But after much scrounging and grumping before turning to the wife for help (who found it in a minute), I managed to complete the task. Would Not Wait
Probably the early start is the result of constantly telling myself, for the past 15 years, that I would not wait until the final Sunday before Christmas to begin the task. Now the problem is what type of symbol to use to show whether a card has been sent or received. The same list has been used for many years and already stars, circles, checks, squares, dots and lines are visible in the left column. Now if I could only recall which means sent and which received from last year. After further deliberation I deem it advisable to send a card to everyone on the list, make a new master copy and trailer with clothing, candy and toys for children in poverty-stricken areas, some of the names struck out do not carry a star, dot, dash or tick, said today they planned a something. Does that mean they didn't send me a card last year and I can drop them from the list or does that mean they sent me one and I neglected them the year before. Who Knows Who?
Then too I remember sending cards two years in a row to a family receiving none and deciding to drop them. Result — that year the small Kentucky community reports contributions are still they sent one and I didn't. More where they helped play Santa coming in from all communities in the area.

$47,000 Surplus in Appleton Snow Fund

Barring a last-minute knock-budgeted $81,000 for snow removal punch from 'Ol Man Winter and ice control. Appleton should end 1964 with a healthy surplus in its snow removal fund. Finance Director Donald Hasler disclosed today that $47,000 is left from the original $69,000 budgeted to combat the elements for the year. Major Storm
With six days left before 1965 bows out, Bues said he was hopeful (with fingers crossed) that Appleton's snow fund will finish well in the black. For 1965 the city council decided that winter might be a bit harsh and as a result

Damage was estimated at more than $100.

Shiocton Family Plans Another Kentucky Trip

A rural Shiocton family which last week loaded its house-ed Christmas party, which was hampered by near-zero temperatures and freezing rain, Jarchow helped pass out more than 600 pounds of candy. The party, which began ahead of schedule due to the threatening weather, was cut short at noon so the children could be returned to their homes. The children had been visited earlier in the week by civic group members from nearby Mount Vernon who drove trucks of clothing into the hills and outfitted the youngsters. Some Employment
Mrs. Jarchow said the families appeared to be cheerful and full of encouragement, although most were on a welfare program of some sort. She said she and her husband saw only one mine, employing three workers, in operation in the once-industrial valley. Many of the families have sought and received some employment in Mount Vernon, and a tourist area in the valley is becoming popular, Mrs. Jarchow said. She personally visited a destitute family of eight children who, she said, were "too shy or proud" to come to the community party and receive handouts. Mrs. Jarchow took some gifts and some of her family's clothing to them. Other trailers loaded with gifts and clothing arrived at the Renfro Valley community Friday and the guests took part in the celebration, Mrs. Jarchow said. Aliens Must Report Addresses in January Aliens must report their addresses during January, according to the Milwaukee office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. Forms for the report are available at post offices and immigration services offices.
